Senior Class History

1923—the first time that these numerals meant anything to the present Senior Class was the day that we had to jump backwards over them. Since then they have stood for the time when we would become Bachelors of Secretarial Science.

Our freshman year was different from anyone else's in the College, because we were the first class to enroll in the new College of Secretarial Science. We managed to live this down, and we proceeded to have a good time—not at the expense of our studies, however! The first big event was the Acquaintance Party—here we learned one another's name and formed new friendships. Shortly after this, class elections were held, and Lillian McCarthy was elected President; Margaret Oldham, Vice-President; Ruth Alley, Secretary; and Agnes Sands, Treasurer. Another event that was of great interest to the Class of 1923 as freshmen was the reception to President Murlin—it was the first time that we met the President of the University.

Our sophomore year! That was a year that we will not easily forget. We ran everything from a circus to a tea for our parents, and incidentally nearly killed them with the tea. That circus was a work of art! Even Barnum and his partner Bailey couldn't have produced a funnier one. We had Annie, the wild woman, and the snake charmer, and a few more famous characters. The officers for this year were: Peg Greer, President; Edith English, Vice-President; Gertrude Dillon, Secretary; and Ed Cahill, Treasurer.

During our junior year we managed to cram more good times in with our strenuous work—and we did some cramming! Our interests were centered in the all-university junior week, and we were not disappointed. Class elections resulted in Lil McCarthy being elected President; Miriam Scott, Vice-President; Ed Cahill held the check book once again, and Eleanor Hill took notes on the class doings.

First publication of the "Sivad," dedicated to Dean Davis.

Senior year came all too soon, and with it we had to become dignified—yes, it was a tremendous struggle. We donned cap and gown and felt the admiration of the undergraduates. This year, Lil McCarthy was elected President; Mary McCrillis, Vice-President; Marion Harkins, Secretary, and Dorothy Robinson, Treasurer.

We hopefully expect to receive our degrees in June, providing that the faculty is charitable and we can live through the rest of the year!

Junior Class History

SEPTEMBER 20, 1920—the memorable date that marked the beginning of our college career! As we entered the new building, saw the new faces, and realized the new experiences which were before us, we somewhat forgot our own fears, and became interested in the people around us. We wondered if we would ever acquire that dignity of manner and air of assurance so noticeable in the Sophomores.

How impressive was that first assembly! Our hall, now so dear to us all, beautiful in its simplicity, was appreciated as much by the older students as by us, for the new portion of the college building had just been completed. Dean Davis and Professor Taylor welcomed us as cordially as they have welcomed the succeeding classes. And may no class come into C. S. S. without that wonderful greeting! From that time on, we, the Class of '24, felt that we belonged to C. S. S.

We soon discovered that the life of college girls in story books and in reality differed—we had larks, many of them, but we also had hard work, heaps of it. This latter is not mentioned in stories. Shorthand was the trial and tribulation of us all. One girl who was reprimanded in the office because she did not get eight hours' sleep each night, replied, "Oh, Miss Curtis, I can't, for I have to do my shorthand." And as for English! The names of "Charley" Gulick and Mr. Code suffice. C. S. S. still continues to have popular professors in the English department.

Do you remember the acquaintance party we freshmen had, at which Sally Bright was elected class president? And we had Alice Lyons for vice-president, Peg Kirby for treasurer and for secretary Marie Desautels.

Christmas was here before we realized it, and the girls of C. S. S. gave a tea to their mothers and a party to the children of the North End. We often wondered if the kiddies escaped having a "tummy-ache" after the feast of ice-cream cones, candy and cakes. And didn't Professor Taylor make a nice looking Santa Claus! We were especially happy that day, too, for it was then that we learned of the plans for a club house.

All the world loves a circus! This was proved on April 15, 1921, when it seemed as if all Boston came to the college circus. Will you ever forget the throngs of people pushing through the corridors, anxious to see everything—side shows, fortune tellers, auction, moving pictures, the prize fight, and the animal ring? Pink lemonade, pop corn and hot dogs were in evidence as per usual.

Do you remember the first day of our second year? We were sophomores at last! And we endeavored to impress the whole world with the fact, but especially that particular part of it occupied by the freshmen. At once we proceeded to initiate them into the joys of college life. They, poor dears, had their hair done up on curlers and in every way were made ridiculous. They were game, though, and we think a great deal of the present Sophomore Class.

Early in the year class elections were held. Great excitement then, but Mildred Coleman headed the list, with Mildred Hewins as vice-president, Mary McGrail, secretary, and Mary Johnson, treasurer. We only wish that Milly had stayed with us for the Grand Finale.

The next thing on the program was the Endowment Fund drive, that great University affair that filled us all with a deeper desire toward loyalty and love for our Alma Mater. '24 was the second class in C. S. S. to have a 100% subscription—surely a splendid proof of its spirit.

February brought plans for the Hop—our first large social affair and formal dance. New gowns were discussed at length and we dreamed of it for weeks. The Committee consisted of Anne Marshall, Lillian Lehmann, and Ruth Middleton. If you want to hear something funny, ask Anne and Lill about the balloons. When the day of this all-important event did arrive, nothing could restrain us. Even Miss Vaughan had hard work to keep her classes interested. You know, she was somewhat worried herself that day about a suitcase her brother was keeping for her—but it was all right in the long run. And of course it was a howling success. Sid Reinherz's music and the Copley-Plaza are a never-failing combination.

We can't begin to remember all the nice things that happened last year. There was the Dramatic Club play "Charm School"—a bazaar—a birthday party, with Marilyn Miller cutting the cake—convocation with Foch—and the B. U. show, with C. S. S. carrying all honors for leading parts.

Now we are juniors—a little wiser in experience, but realizing more than ever before that there is much in the world to learn yet. This year we have been introduced to Law under the guidance of Miss Page, and you know "ignorance of the Law excuseth no one," as alas, some of us have already discovered. And we have a class in Rhythmics! And ever so many new courses to pass away our leisure hours, which are very few and far between.

This year we can boast of a Dormitory. About one hundred girls live in the building adjoining the Club House. And don't say a word—there is a real Sivad office there, with a typewriter and desk and everything. Drop in some time!

Our third year is progressing famously, with Louise Bellows as our leader. Mary McGrail is vice-president, Marie Jones, secretary, and Ruth Middleton, treasurer. One of the most important elections was that of Prom Committee—for Prom is one of the biggest things in a junior's life. Charlotte Armstrong is chairman, and is helped by Virginia Hughes, Theresa Arratto, Margaret Kirby.

We are looking forward to an exciting Junior Week, for what with the Pan-adelphic Ball, the Show, the C. S. S. Tea Dance and Prom, there will be something doing every minute.

As far as our other activities are concerned, we had a party for the freshmen and we have our Year Book,—take a look at it,—it speaks for itself.

We still have one more year to be together—and then—friends will separate—but our good times and bad times, our gay times and sad times will remain in the memories of us all. We love our college and everything connected with it. It has taught us that service for others is the most important thing in life.

May we profit by the worthy lessons learned here, and cherish the friendships made. Long live the Class of '24!!

FLORRIE ALDERSON

143 Appleton Street
Press Club.

Lowell, Mass.

Here's Florrie to introduce us to you and although she is well known for her quiet manner and unassuming ways, we know she will make as good an impression on you as she has on us.

E. VERA AMBROSE

49 Johnson Street

Lynn, Mass.

Sivad Board, Spanish Club, Editor of Spanish Paper Student Government Board.

Vera and versatile begin with the same letter and stay together after they get started. As the Statistics show, she will make as good a teacher as a secretary and an equally good editor and artist. So we place you high in our hearts and will keep you there.

CHARLOTTE J. ARMSTRONG

25 Hawthorne Street

Roxbury, Mass.

"CHARLIE"

Spanish Club; Athletic Association.

She has enthusiasm enough to share with every girl in college; but when it comes to hustling for B. U. Prom tickets, she's "right there." Charlotte's motto is "Work while you work and play while you play."

You'll reach the goal you strive to win,
Because you work and work with vim.

Charlotte

THERESA ADRIENNE ARRATTO

5 Cottage Park Road

Winthrop, Mass.

"TREE," "TERESE"

Twenty Club; Junior Prom Committee; "Sivad" Board.

Theresa could make a Sphinx crack a smile with her witticisms and jokes. When we think of "Tree," we think of:

Black Bobbed Hair,
Class in Rhythmics,
Twinkling Brown Eyes,
Winthrop Ferry,
"A Skin You Love to Touch."

GRACE L. BARRETT

77 Mt. Vernon Street

Lowell, Mass.

English Club; Spanish Club; Dramatic Club; Athletic Association.

Why is it that such brilliance and intellectuality as she possesses is disguised by a mask of calm indifference? Grace is just the kind that none of us can get along without. She is always ready to help a girl along. Grace is planning a trip to South America, and we know she will feel at home there, on account of the many Spanish courses she took at C. S. S.

ANNA KATHRYN BARRY, ΦΣΤ

216 Highland Street

Brockton, Mass.

"ANN"

Mandolin Club, 2 Secretary, 3 Vice-President; French Club; Commuters' Club; Athletic Association.

"Ann and Irene were known at the start
As two who couldn't be forced apart."

"Ann" is kind-hearted, amiable, and has a quick susceptibility for humor. We can never forget her. Although "Ann" has to commute all the way to Brockton, she still finds time to attend Mandolin Club rehearsals.

The very best of our dance at the Greek Casino I did so want to sweep a dance, but Ann looked so happy and contented I didn't dare even suggest it - Anna

ELSIE MARIE BARTSCH

38 Moraine Street Waverley, Mass.
Spanish Club; Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Association.

A maid who is neat,
And rather petite,
Very fond of sports and fun;
Her smile is a treat,
She is very sweet,
And all of our hearts has won.

*With memories of the day when you drove Esther, Mary, Elsie and I to Riverside in your "Nash".
Love, Elsie*

H. LOUISE BELLOWS

North Easton Massachusetts

"WEEZIE"

French Club; Student Government Board; Y. W. C. A.;
Athletic Association; Junior President.

Gentle reader, words are superfluous when we come to the President of the best class that ever went out of the halls of C. S. S. We envy her sweet mannerisms and her ability to control the girls at class meeting discussions.

*Lots of good things to you, Louise.
Most sincerely,
Louise*

SADYE RUTH BIXBY, AK

4 Willows Avenue Salem, Mass.

"Bix"

This bobbed-haired, jolly-looking young miss is none other than Sadye Ruth Bixby. She is going to be a great success—no sticking in a rut for her. She will never do anything because somebody else did it that way, but whatever she does will be flavored with originality.

PEARL ANNE BORNSTEIN

83 Central Avenue

Medford, Mass.

"PAB," "PABBIE"

Mandolin Club; Granch Club; Dramatic Club; Commuters' Club; Athletic Association; Junior Basketball Team.

We recommend Pearl as a girl not of words, but of deeds, especially when it comes to getting baskets for the junior basketball team. We wonder where she got her hobby of eating chop suey with drum sticks.

*Little more noise on that Mandolin - Corp!
Pearl*

LOUISE BUDD

291 Middle Street

Fall River, Mass.

French Club; Athletic Association.

A small bundle of life, pep and vitality, always ready for any sport. When there's any fun going on, "Buddy" will be there. She is energetic and a hard worker, too. What more can we add to make a perfect balance for an even-tempered, sunny disposition.

MONA C. BURKE

278 Lowell Street

Somerville, Mass.

"GYP"

English Club; French Club; Spanish Club; Dramatic Club; Athletic Association; Basketball Team 3.

Mona is one of our demure maidens. She never seems to chatter, and yet, when she does talk, she says something. This is a trait worth having. Mona is lively, despite her demure manner, and is renowned for her peppy work on the junior basketball team.

DOROTHY CAMPBELL

11 Lovett Place

East Lynn, Mass.

"Dot"

Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Association.

Along about the fall of 1920, there appeared at C. S. S. a medium-sized, brown-haired miss, who soon became "Dot" to all of us. Sincerity, consistency and faithfulness sums up the character of our classmate.

BEATRICE CARRO, AK

54 Locust Street

Winthrop, Mass.

It's too bad Carro doesn't come just before Scheffreen—it doesn't seem right to have them separated. When one thinks of Beatrice, however, one thinks of a small, black-eyed girl, with a winning manner and smile for all of us.

ELIZABETH CHARLETON

33 Highgate Street

Allston, Mass.

"Liz," "BETTY"

Spanish Club; Athletic Association.

A well-loved young lady, who is both cute and sensible—that's "Betty." She is a quiet body, yet one who seems to entertain any group in which she may be.

ALICE CLARK

Bellows Falls

Vermont

"AL"

Mandolin Club; French Club; Y. W. C. A.

Bellows Falls is proud of "Al" and so is C. S. S. She is naturally gentle and easy going, and one of those girls who is satisfied with being agreeable and content to let someone else take the glory and credit.

LORETTE GEORGIANNA CLOUTIER, AOII

16 Gilman Street

Waterville, Maine

"PAT"

Glee Club.

Here's to Lorette who came to us from the U. of Maine. What can express our feelings more exactly than the proverb, time-worn, but with a wealth of meaning, "Better late than never." 'Tis very apropos. Lorette is one of the cutest girls in the Class of '24.

MARION E. CONDON, ΣΔΦ I

334 Center Street

Jamaica Plain, Mass.

"MARDI"

Spanish Club; Athletic Association.

"Mardi" is a jolly sort of girl, full of giggles and smiles, neat and ever witty. She is one of our brilliant girls, but is covered by a manner that is quiet and unassuming.

MARGARET CONKLING

117 White Street

Waverley, Mass.

"PEGGY"

Press Club; Y. W. C. A.; "Sivad" Board; Bazaar Committee.

"He is such a sweet man." Margaret, you must remember that sweetness is not a manly quality, but rather belongs to you. If we didn't like you so well, we'd be frightfully green-eyed of your wealth of blonde hair.

HELEN CONNOLLY

507 Cottage Road

South Portland, Maine

"CONNIE"

Press Club; French Club; Athletic Association.

Few perhaps except those she has chosen as intimates know the depths of her subtle nature. We who know you, think it is rather your fascinating nonchalance, your all-round good fellowship, and your God-given sense of humor that make you a good scout.

MARY COX

Boardman Avenue

Melrose Highlands, Mass.

Spanish Club; Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Association.

"Mary always plays the game

To see it through—and not for fame."

She is a quiet sort of girl who goes about her work and accomplishes just loads before the rest of us are aware of anything to be done. She has proved herself for three years, steady and progressive.

PHYLLIS B. CULBERT

238 Greenwood Avenue

Beverly Farms, Mass.

"PHYL"

Athletic Association.

From aristocratic Beverly Farms comes our "Phyl," with whom we associate the phrase, "but my train was late." Some people make themselves known by the noise they make, but rather we know her by her refined and gentle manner. Needless to say, we have all enjoyed her companionship and her kindly disposition.

Don't forget Phyl and the note brought from the window. - by

HELEN DAVIDSON, ΔΚ

8 Intervale Street

Roxbury, Mass.

'Tis love that makes the world go round. Helen has a very taking way and possesses valuable knowledge of the all-important man. She is an energetic little person—always full of fun and bright ideas.

*Here's to our delicious confidences & to the answers to the puzzling questions
"Has it or was it not meant for that?"
Looks of relief.*

DOROTHY DAVIS, ΘΨΩ

91 Crescent Avenue

Melrose, Mass.

Dorothy came to us from Mt. Holyoke in junior year, and all her classmates who know her say she is one of the very best. We have only one regret, that she didn't come here sooner.

Eva is not an exception to the rule which places good things in small packages. Of sturdy and substantial proportions, Eva cannot vaunt of her height, but what she lacks in this latter respect is more than compensated by mental prowess.

We do not think Adelaide loses much sleep over studies. She is a jovial, companionable girl, inspiring a laugh by her mere presence, and her own laughter is irrepressible.

This describes Florence perfectly—the dependable kind of girl who doesn't say half as much as she does. Hence—her admirable capability in all she undertakes.

E. MARIE DOOLEY, ΦΣΤ

37 Seattle Street Allston, Mass.
French Club; Dramatic Club; Commuters' Club; Athletic Association.

She's energetic, cool and calm;
Each duty is a pleasure.
Her thoughts she does not all confide,
But guards them like a treasure.

We feel confident that in whatever harbor of life she drops anchor, she will come out, as she did when among us, one of the best.

CORA H. FALCONER

132 Winthrop Avenue Wollaston, Mass.
Y. W. C. A.; Secretary Athletic Association, 1921-1922.

The curly Titian hair and cheerful smile of our basketball captain need no introduction to followers of athletics or Y. W. activities. Cora is a girl just "full of pep" and is never more happy than when her team is winning from the other classes.

HAZEL FAULKNER, ΘΨΩ

North Grafton Massachusetts

Hazel's attractive, tall and slim,
And always looks to us so trim.

If we did not like Hazel so well, we'd be frightfully green-eyed about her perfect marcel and "strawberry and cream" complexion.

GLADYS ARDELLE FISH, ΦΣΤ
13 Western Avenue Natick, Mass.

"GLAD"

French Club; Commuters' Club; Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Association.

Sure and steady,
Always ready
Her knowledge to impart.
We soon depend
Upon this friend,
With her loving, loyal heart.

RAY FRANZBLAU
80 Pleasant Street Bradford, Mass.

"LALU"

Commuters' Club.

Even though Ray spends most of her time commuting, she manages to pull down a couple of A's or so. She is a sure cure for the blues, with her effervescent chatter.

EILEEN M. GREEN, ΘΨΩ
1926 Beacon Street Brookline, Mass.

"EILY"

Mandolin Club; French Club; Athletic Association.

"Eily" spreads sunshine through her infectious giggle. And she keeps us very much interested in her affairs of heart. Her locker is a testimonial to her neatness. We prophesy a good housekeeper in Eileen.

ELIZABETH ANGELL HEATH, AT 438 Hope Street "BETTY" Providence, R. I.
 Press Club; English Club; Spanish Club; Inter-sorority Council, Vice-President 3; Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Association.

"Betty" stands for demureness. She is one of the members of this "illustrious class" who is interested in domestic science and proves it by the delicious buffet lunches she concocts for the girls. We suspect that Betty's motto is "'Tis love that makes the world go 'round.'"

MARION HOLTZGREEN
 12 Tainter Street Medford, Mass.

We would like to look through Marion's scrap-book and hear her sing, for these are two privileges we have never had. She was one of the pioneers in the new mode of dressing the hair à la Elizabeth Hines.

F. PATRICIA HORAN, ΣΔΦ
 11 Albion Street Waterbury, Conn.

"PAT"
 English Club; French Club.

If Patricia did have any clouds in her life, we're sure they would all have silver linings. Pray, tell us, "Pat," dear, how you preserve a cheerful mien and unsoured disposition amidst all the trials and tribulations of a college course!

HELEN C. HOWLAND, KΣΔ

Vineyard Haven

Mass.

Vineyard Haven sent us Helen and we are eternally indebted. We are glad Howland and Hughes come so near together in the book for we hate to separate them.

KATHRYN HUCKINS

Skowhegan

Maine

Although Kathryn only came to us this year, C. S. S. has gained a loyal student while her Southern alma mater has lost one. Her bright eyes are most attractive and betray to us the jolly nature which is hers.

A. VIRGINIA HUGHES, ΣΔΦ

333 Quincy Street

Dorchester, Mass.

"VEE"

B. U. Cosmopolitan Club; Inter-sorority Council; Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Association.

Virginia is famous for her sweetness, daintiness and her Cosmopolitan ideas.

"It's hard to picture thee as thou art,
So fair of features and warm of heart;
But this we can with truth all state,
For thy kind, thoughtful deeds, thou hast no mate."

AGNES HURLEY, ΦΣΓ

Malden

Mass.

"SPY"

English Club; French Club; Spanish Club; Dramatic Club; Athletic Association.

A is for angelic,
G is for giggles,
N is for neatness,
E is for earnestness,
S is for sweetness.

This is as complete a summary of Agnes as you could find anywhere.

LEAH IMMERMANN

59 Cedar Street

Taunton, Mass.

Leah and good-looking clothes are synonyms. She is the envy of us all but then the envy is overcome by the affection we have for her.

ELSIE JACKSON

159 Brown Street

Waltham, Mass.

"ELSE"

Spanish Club; Y. W. C. A.

Does she appear a little quiet? Well, let me assure you that she isn't. She is chock full of fun, as her flashing dark eyes suggest, and is willing to join in any good times. Elsie Bartsch and Elsie Jackson are as inseparable as Viola and Vivian.

*Agnes is a good girl time we had at Pineville.
Oh those times!!!
Elsie Jackson*

PAULINE JENNESS

10 Highland Street

Dover, N. H.

Do you know Pauline? If you do, you know one of the best-natured girls you have ever met. The dormitory halls will miss her snatches of the latest songs.

MARY ELIZABETH JOHNSON, ΘΥΩ

181 Davis Avenue

Brookline, Mass.

English Club; French Club; Dramatic Club; Inter-Sorority Council; Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Association; "Sivad" Board; Bazaar Committee.

"Good sport" is just the very best way in the world to describe Mary—and as for art, she has ideas by the dozens and, with the aid of a mere brush and paint, Mary can carry out every one of them.

What you won't ever forget was I got you all upset with the picture business with you. It's so in my mind I can't forget it.

N. MARIE JONES, ΚΣΔ

Unity

Maine

It's hard to picture you as you are,
So fair of feature and warm of heart;
But this we can with truth all state,
For thy kind, thoughtful deeds, thou hast no mate.

ADA KILKENNEY, ΣMA

79 Warren Street Lawrence, Mass.
English Club; French Club; Dramatic Club; Y. W. C. A.;
Athletic Association.

Ever ready as a friend,
Doing kind things without end,
Modest, generous, glad to lend,—
That's our Ada.
Possessed of knowledge always clear,
Forever steadfast and sincere;
Yes, in fact, she's quite a dear;
Here's to our Ada.

ALICE CHRISTENA KINGSTON

19 Woodside Street Salem, Mass.

"AL"

Athletic Association.

Alice is one of those rare products whom nothing ever bothers. Her smiling countenance is often a silver lining to the dark of an unceasing round of lectures. Like all gifted with similar qualities, "Al" has made many firm friends in C. S. S.

*Did I ever arrive in time to see time? Some girls
But wish Al.*

MARGARET M. KIRBY

88 G Street South Boston, Mass.

"PEG"

Twenty Club; English Club; Athletic Association; Class
Treasurer '20-21; "Sivad" Board; Junior Prom Committee.

This young lady must have been in the mind of the author of "Dancing Feet" when he wrote his song, for she certainly can "trip the light fantastic." There are so many things that we admire about you—your coiffure, your clothes, your blush and your lovable self.

LILLIAN LEHMANN
7 Playstead Road Newton, Mass.

"LIL"

English Club; Dramatic Club; "Sivad" Board; Bazaar Committee; Beanpot Staff; Sophomore Hop Committee.

Lil is a mighty fine sport,
An all-round good sort;
But reader, dear, oh, how she grinds?
If 'twixt study and pleasure,
'Twixt work and leisure,
She must choose between the way,
She decides upon the latter;
And yet—I don't flatter—
She comes out with gleaming "A's."

MARION LEVIN
129 Shurtleff Street Chelsea, Mass.

"MINKEY"

Assignment Editor Press Club; Executive Committee '22 English Club; German Club; Athletic Association.

Click, click, click, goes the typewriter—result—a wonderful notebook, that is the envy of all. Marion will make a success of life, for she is clever, dependable and ambitious.

GRACE AGNES LYNCH, ΦΣΓ
104 Florence Street Brockton, Mass.

"ANGEL," "LYNCHEE"

English Club; French Club; Dramatic Club; Commuters' Club; Athletic Association.

"Lynchee" is a retiring student, a girl of ponderous consideration. No Prof ever ruffled her. No girl ever vexed her. A soberly smiling, quiet, good maid is Grace.

*Guess you will never forget the "crazy" crowd next door to you at 58 — Best wishes for your success
Helen G. Green*

MARGARET A. MACKAY, AT 221 Chestnut Hill Avenue Boston, Mass.
"PEG"

French Club; Athletic Association; Y. W. C. A.

If you don't think "Peg" is fleet of finger, as well as of foot, look at her typewriting medal. And her accomplishments do not end here, as her marks testify. "Peg" is one good, all-round girl, whom we have all liked to be with during our college career.

HESTER MacKENZIE
150 Church Street Marlboro, Mass.
Spanish Club; Athletic Association.

Here's to you, Hester, with your mild and peace-loving expression and sincerity of heart. Life without Hester would be a pretty dull project for Eileen; hence they are inseparable.

MILDRED C. MACKINTIRE
32 Fairmount Street Salem, Mass.
"MAC"

Press Club; English Club; German Club; Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Association.

"Mac" is a dyed-in-the-wool optimist. Not even the long, tiresome trip that she makes daily over one of the worst railroads in the East to C. S. S. has succeeded in effacing the happy smile from her countenance.

*Remember the hard work which you have done?
"Mac"*

LILLIAN MARGUERITE MACMULLIN
37 Hillside Road Newton Highlands, Mass.
"LILL"

English Club; Spanish Club; Athletic Association.

A quiet little body,
Without much to say;
But we know her best, we think
We'll hear of her some day.
For her wonderful neat ways,
She is known throughout our college.

Lillian's brains and her conscientiousness will surely make her future a bright one.

MARGARET MAGUIRE

31 High Street Charlestown, Mass.
English Club; Spanish Club, 2 Secretary; Commuters' Club;
Athletic Association.

Margaret is a true-blue pal, a knowing and sympathetic conversationalist, a thinker and a student. Her college course is a success. She knows how to smile, and has the determination to win.

LILLIAN RITA MAHER, ΦΣΓ
282 Third Avenue Woonsocket, R. I.
"LIL"

English Club; Dramatic Club; Athletic Association; Commuters' Club; Captain Ball Team 1; Basketball Team 3; Secretary Dormitory Council.

Courteous, unobtrusive and on good terms with all. That is our Lillian. She is not a grind, but she is one of those girls who picks up knowledge easily and discloses it knowingly.

EMILY MANSFIELD, ΘΨΩ

Lynnfield

Massachusetts

"BILLY"

Mandolin Club, 1 Vice-President; German Club; Student Government Board.

Emily is one of the girls who is really serious in her work. She is loads of fun, too, even though you might think she is the quiet kind. Although she will never comb many gray hairs as a result of over study, still when all is said and done, you can find her well up among the leaders.

ANNE MARSHALL

30 Cleveland Street

Gloucester, Mass.

"SMILES"

Glee Club; English Club; Spanish Club; Dramatic Club; Student Government Board; Athletic Association; Bazaar Committee; Nanking Board; Business Manager of "Sivad" Board; Sophomore Hop Committee; Endowment Fund Committee; Basketball Team.

Anne is one of our hard workers. She goes into her work with a determination to put her best into it. She is conscientious and earnest about everything she undertakes. We recommend you, Anne, and send you off with our heartiest wishes.

GERTRUDE K. MARSHALL

27 Walnut Street

Newtonville, Mass.

"BOB"

Spanish Club, Sivad Board, Basketball Team.

"Bob" is an all-round good sport. We like to watch her flying over the basketball court, taking the ball out of the air and depositing it in the basket. We foresee many baskets in the game of Life for you, Bob.

MARGARET MARSHALL

582 Pleasant Street

Attleboro, Mass.

"MIGGLES"

English Club; Spanish Club; Athletic Association.

Margaret is another efficient secretary, but so unassuming is she in all that she does, that only her close friends know of her accomplishments.

E. HAZEL MATHEWS

7 Hall Avenue

Somerville, Mass.

"Dot"

Press Club; Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Association.

Hazel is noted for her amiable disposition. We can't believe she ever lost her temper or said a mean thing to anyone. We wonder why she is looking in her mail box all the time. In connection with the last remark, we know Hazel won't be in the business world long on account of her home-making abilities.

Reminds of the first time I saw Prudence & the first time I saw Prudence.

PRUDENCE IRENE MATHEWS

55 Commonwealth Road

Watertown, Mass.

"PRUE," "PRUDY"

Press Club 1, President 2 and 3.

Unruffled? Goodness, yes! This is Prudence's most salient characteristic. Prudence is anything but what her Puritan name leads us to believe. Just get her talking on the Press Club, in the dryly humorous way that she does, and you will soon see her surrounded by a group of admirers eager to catch her witty remarks.

HELEN McCARTHY

78 Blossom Street

Bradford, Mass.

Helen is one of our busiest girls, and is always doing something worth while in her spare periods. She gets good results in everything she undertakes and with these qualities we feel that Helen will make a successful teacher.

May I be allowed to say that Helen is a very good student and a very good person.

MARION McCARTHY

39 Everett Street

Arlington, Mass.

Marion is a personification of a good student; reticent with regard to her activities, yet deeply sincere and arduous for her college and class. Although she is dignified and has poise galore, there are times, however, when she gives way to a bright flush of embarrassment, known to the uninitiated as blushes.

Marion is a very good student and a very good person.

WINIFRED R. McDONOUGH, ΦΣΤ

100 Belgrade Avenue

Roslindale, Mass.

"WIN," "WINNIE"

French Club, 3 Treasurer; Commuters' Club; Athletic Association.

The above portrait is a representation of one of Winnie McDonough. To be confidential, the picture does not do her justice, for a mere inanimate likeness could never fittingly reproduce the sunny smile and twinkling eyes that characterize the "Winnie" we know. "Winnie" is a big old peach, and we guarantee she will make her mark in the world.

Winnie is a very good student and a very good person.

ALICE MCGILLICUDDY

Springfield

Massachusetts

"AL"

Press Club; French Club; Athletic Association.

Whenever you want anything done, "Al" will do it. Surely this good nature will make her an ideal secretary. We wonder if we could encourage "Al" to write a book in the future, entitled "Doings on Bay State Road." We assure you, "Al," there's plenty of material and would prove to be a good seller.

MARY LOUISE McGRAIL

185 Davis Avenue

Brookline, Mass.

"MAY"

Press Club; Dramatic Club; English Club; Spanish Club; Orchestra, General Manager 1 and 2; Athletic Association; Sophomore Class Secretary; Junior Class Vice-President; "Sivad" Board Editor; C. S. S. Editor of B. U. "News."

We must confess we had to pause when we came to write up Mary in this small space. Mary is the sort of girl we all like to call our friend. Mary's angelic face is very deceiving to those who really know her, and it is whispered that Mary actually giggles at times! We wish the best of luck to one of our most popular girls.

SYBIL MESSER

Billerica

Mass.

Sybil is the only one of our girls who left us for that "bourne whence no traveller returns." We miss her so — her quiet smile and gentle manner. She will never be forgotten by the Class of 1924.

RUTH MIDDLETON, KΣΔ

Attleboro

Massachusetts

Press Club; Dramatic Club; Student Government; Athletic Association; English Club; Bazaar Committee; Class Treasurer; Committee for Sophomore Hop; Y. W. C. A.

Ruth is an authority on affairs of the heart. In fact, her book on "A Man's Heart and How to Capture It" is already in the press. We recommend it as a book that should be in every girl's library. Although men and studies do not jibe, yet Ruth manages both.

*With many happy anniversaries of 1-124 days.
Ruth E. Middleton?*

EILEEN MONAHAN

28 Orchard Street

Marlboro, Mass.

French Club; Spanish Club; Athletic Association.

Always willing to aid others and a firm believer in good-fellowship, she has welded within her person a winning combination. We wish to see her future resplendent with prosperity.

PAULINE MARIE MOODY, AΣΔ

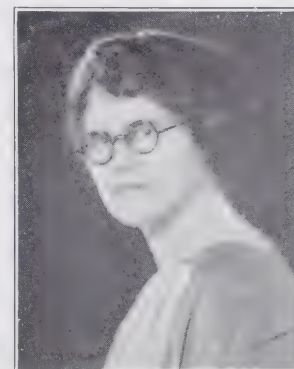

Waterbury

Vermont

"POLLY"

Press Club; English Club; French Club; Y. W. C. A.

"Polly" came to us when our frivolous, frolicsome freshman days were over, but a more loyal, sincere friend is not found among our ranks. She drinks deep of the Pierian spring and shows marvelous conscientiousness in everything she attempts, and is especially popular around the dormitory.

MARY E. MORTIMER

4 Crestwood Park

Roxbury, Mass.

Glee Club; English Club; French Club, 2 Secretary; Student Government Board; Y. W. C. A.

As a singer, Mary possesses remarkable ability and an especially sweet voice. She has made a lot of friends while with us, and we'll say she'll win a lot more with her attractive manner and good old smile.

LOUISE MOULTON

124 Trafalgar Street

Rochester, N. Y.

This tall, graceful juniorite is one of our star boarders at the "dorms." She is the possessor of a somewhat retiring disposition and a brilliant mind. Louise is our idea of a regular girl.

HELEN MULCAHY

109 Rogers Street

Lowell, Mass.

A merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance. Helen surely possesses an enviable disposition—even the early morning ride from Lowell on late and crowded cars has never been known to disturb her equanimity. She is good-natured always.

HELEN MULVEY

653 Walkhill Street

Mattapan, Mass.

Helen has set a good example for us all by settling down to study, and she certainly gets good results, as shown by her marks. "She is a good sport," we hear her friends say, and we agree with them, too. Helen is a sort that is true to all her friends.

MARY DOLORES MURPHY, ΦΣΓ

201 Walnut Street

Manchester, N. H.

"Doc"

Press Club; English Club; Spanish Club; Commuters' Club; Athletic Association.

May your laughter be as contagious as it has been since 1924 has known you, Mary, and may your life be as happy as your laughter. Question we would all like to know—why does Mary talk so softly in class and with so much force outside?

MARY A. MURRAY, ΦΣΓ

26 Concord Street

Lawrence, Mass.

English Club; Spanish Club; Athletic Association.

We can judge from her picture, which portrays Mary as she really is, a noble character and of a kind disposition, that whatever her line, she will surely be successful.

*Where, and Oh' where, Cora do you get all the good looking men?
Mary*

EVELYN DOROTHY NADELL, AΨ

35 Shaw Street North Weymouth, Mass.
Mandolin Club; Glee Club; English Club; Spanish Club;
Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Association.

What's the matter, Evelyn, in love again? Never mind, we all have our moments. Nevertheless, she is a busy person—although she devotes her spare time playing for the Glee Club, nevertheless, she has her lessons done on time, and more often ahead of time. Then she smiles serenely while the rest of us dash madly in at the eleventh hour.

MADELINE E. NASON

Bar Harbor Maine
Maine Club; English Club; Athletic Association; Junior Board.

Under Madeline's fluffy bobbed hair is one of the keenest minds of our intellectual class. To prove this, just look on the honorary slab, where we are proud to have our Madeline's name. One of the best things we can say about Madeline is that she is as modest and unassuming as she is brilliant.

MILDRED MARION NUSSBAUM

26 Concord Street Lawrence, Mass.

"MILLIE"

Athletic Association.

Even though Mildred commutes from Lawrence every day, she still retains her good nature. She also holds first place in the marathon down the six flights of stairs every day to the lunch room. We are glad to have you one of us, Mildred.

ESTHER G. NUZUM

260 Cambridge Street

Cambridge, Mass.

"SNOOKS"

English Club; Chairman World Fellowship Committee 1922-23 of Y. W. C. A.; Orchestra; Athletic Association.

Usually quiet and unobtrusive, Esther never ventures to give an opinion or initiate any course of action until positive she is in the right. Friendly to all and to all a friend.

BERYL PARKER, KΣΔ

220 Broadway

New York City, N. Y.

Beryl is very conscientious and thorough in everything she undertakes, and is a firm believer in the maxim, "Anything worth doing is worth doing well." She's an excellent listener for us blustering people who simply must rave and rant.

CAROLYN W. PATTILLO

50 Highland Street

Lowell, Mass.

"TOPSY"

English Club; Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Association; "Sivad" Board; Bazaar Committee.

A gentle, quiet maid on the whole. The worth while kind of girl who can be depended upon. We would not know that she existed were it not for the fact that her acts speak for themselves. She carries away all honors in literary work. If this attribute gets one anywhere, we can already see Carolyn far up ahead.

A. MARIE PERRY

Canton Avenue

Milton, Mass.

"RIE," "MARIA"

English Club; Commuters' Club; Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Association.

Whether "the wind blows east or the wind blows west," we get a cheerful greeting from our friend and fellow classmate, "Rie." We have here a well-loved young lady who is both sensible and thorough.

BERYL FRANCES QUINN, ΦΣΤ

32 Pine Street

Woburn, Mass.

Mandolin Club; English Club; French Club; Spanish Club; Athletic Association.

Beryl is an important member of the "I should worry Club." She takes things as they come, and is the happier for so doing. A girl of this type must be popular, and she certainly is. Beryl is clever, both in a musical and studious way.

DOROTHY M. RALPH

Southwest Harbor

Maine

"Dot"

Spanish Club; English Club; Maine Club; Athletic Association; Commuters' Club.

"Dot" is quiet, intelligent, fair-haired and possessed with many friends in the class. The one thing that is very peculiar about Dorothy is her uncanny ability in arriving at class on time.

*always remember to

RUTH LOUISE RHODES

South Bellingham

Massachusetts

"RUTHIE"

Press Club; Commuters' Club; Athletic Association.

"Actions speak louder than words," is Ruth's motto. While among us, Ruth has proven herself a social, amiable girl—one that lies hidden under an exterior of modesty. We predict a great future for Ruth, as a real C. S. S. student.

RUTH MARGARET RIDYARD, KΣΔ

Worcester

Massachusetts

"RUFUS"

Glee Club 1, 2; English Club 1, 2 Treasurer; Spanish Club 1, Treasurer 2, 3; Dramatic Club 1, Treasurer; Student Government Board 1, 2; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3 Vice-President; Athletic Association 1, 2, 3.

"Queen Rose of the Rosebud Garden of Girls."

The vote was almost unanimous that Ruth was our prettiest girl. We all wish that we had Ruth's trait of eternal neatness and her ability to be unruffled in all occasions.

MADELINE IRENE ROCHE, ΦΣΓ

43 Cottage Street

Brockton, Mass.

"KID"

English Club; Spanish Club; Commuters' Club; Athletic Association.

A very pleasant person, whose jollity is often evidenced by tiny lurking dimples. Irene's special work in life seems to be in keeping happy, and we all admit its value in this sober old world.

VIRGINIA ROSENBERG, AEP
179 Harvard Street Brookline, Mass.

"JIN"

Here's another transfer—"Jin" came from Syracuse University and their loss certainly was our gain. She helps to keep up our reputation for a good-looking class, and as a class that ranks high in scholastic standing.

*Here's to literature and the criticism and the endless reports!
Sincerely
Virginia*

ANNA ROSENGREN
Centerville Massachusetts
English Club; Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Association.

We notice that your favorite diversion is going to class, Anna. There's more truth than poetry in that remark. You are never conspicuous for your absence in class. But we think that your absence would be felt too much to allow you to stay away from us.

ANNIE ROSSI
4 Vale Street West Roxbury, Mass.

"ANDY"

French Club; Athletic Association.

"Andy" is a genial and whole-hearted girl of the most obliging sort. True to her work among us, doubly true and faithful will she be in her chosen career. The best of luck to "Andy."

BEATRICE ROY, KΣΔ

16 Preston Road

West Roxbury, Mass.

"BEA"

English Club; Dramatic Club; Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Association.

"A merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance."

Ready for work and ready for play,

Always happy, good-natured and gay.

"Who is this maiden?" I hear you say;

Couldn't you guess?—Why, Beatrice.

LILLIAN SCHEFFREEN

74 Bloomfield Street

Dorchester, Mass.

Attractive, to say the least! Her smile and dimples in combination with that nifty style make her good to look upon. Lillian is always ready for a good time, but where lessons are concerned, she is easily bored.

SARA SCHWALB

3 Dana Avenue

Hyde Park, Mass.

"SA"

We never would have known from Sara herself that she was active in social work. But we have it from good authority that she is doing good work in the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital. We're proud of that record, Sara.

HERMINE SEUSS, KΣΔ

137 Grove Avenue

Leominster, Mass.

A bunch of pep, blue eyes, brown hair, a knowledge of dancing and a dainty air—that is Hermine.

ALICE S. SHEPHERD, ΦΒΦ

57 University Road

Brookline, Mass.

"AL"

Mandolin Club 1, 2 Vice-President, 3 President; Press Club 1 Secretary; French 1 Treasurer; Athletic 1, 2, 3.

Alice's future looks rosy indeed, for anyone who can broadcast the germ of music so effectually must sooner or later come into her own.

So here's to you, Alice Shepherd,
With your curly head of hair.
You have a winning way of winning;
By golly, girl, you're there.

ELIZABETH C. SMITH

11 Pickett Street

Beverly, Mass.

"BETH"

German Club, Athletic Association.

Beth, we're wondering at your favorite diversion of whistling, and your ambition to grow tall. However, we know that although whistling girls come to a bad end, you'll be the exception that proves the rule.

VIVIAN E. SMITH, ΦΒΦ

30 Waldemar Avenue

Y. W. C. A., Athletic Association.

This young lady has the most infectious laugh you ever heard. Especially in Spanish, is it uncontrollable. We don't understand her ambition—to be good, kind and pretty. We don't think she has to have an ambition like this—it seems to have been fulfilled.

LILLIAN BERTHA STAFFHORST, ΣΜΑ

108 Bellevue Road

Lynn, Mass.

"LIL." "BILLIE"

Secretary Spanish Club; Athletic Association.

Sincere, consistent, faithful—such is Lillian. Whatever career she has chosen for herself, she may be sure that she carries with her the best wishes of all her classmates.

"VI," "VEE"

"Sivad" Board; English Club; French Club; Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Association.

A sweet, calm, quiet, pleasant, fun-loving bunch of lovable-ness is our Violet. One we are glad to have known and never shall forget. You never have to ask her help in a cause for she previously volunteers her services. "Vi" is one of our distinguished artists.

Lovingly, Violet

VELMA SWEET, AT 171 Fort Hill Avenue Lowell, Mass.
Press Club; Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Association.

Why is the bookstore so popular? With Velma behind the counter, this question is unnecessary. What could we do without her to supply our needs two minutes before the last bell rings. Sweet is her name and sweet is her nature; her cooking delicious and very nutritious.

JULIA SWIFT, ΘΨΩ

"JUDY"

Athletic Association.

We see in "Judy" all the dignity and serenity that we like to think we ourselves possess, but don't. She fascinates not only us, but the opposite sex, too.

IRMA CORINNE TATTON
30 Sheridan Avenue Medford, Mass.

"FRECK"

French Club; Commuters' Club; Athletic Association.

From a demure little freshman to a junior tall, "Freck" has grown beloved by us all. Although she is quiet, her presence is felt throughout the class.

The future holds many a smiling hour for Irma.

*Let's wish

MILDRED TEWKSBURY

51 Byrnes Street

Jamaica Plain, Mass.

"MIL"

Athletic Association.

Mildred has a smile for everyone, scatters sunshine everywhere, true blue and a mighty good friend. Here's to the highest success in whatever path you turn, "Mil"! You are our idea of a typical all-round college girl.

Of feminine gentility.

This applies to you, "Dutch," not mentioning your many other good qualities.

ELEANOR VATTER

CORA EDITH VOSE
55 Crawford Street Roxbury, Mass.

"COKIE"

Mandolin Club 3, Treasurer; Athletic Association.

"Ever fair and never proud;

Had tongue at will, and yet was never loud."

We suspect that beneath Cora's quiet exterior there is a very peppy interior. However, we are sure of the fact that although Cora gets very good marks, she doesn't let her studies interfere with her good times.

MARION L. WEBB
Winthrop Massachusetts

"MYON"

English Club; Commuters' Club; Member of the World Fellowship Committee of the Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Association.

We always deemed you one of our quiet members, but after finding out your favorite hobby, of moonlight rides, we began to change our opinion of you. However, we will always remember you as a diligent and true-blue friend.

NAOMI E. WHITE
Foxboro Massachusetts

"NOM"

English Club; Commuters' Club; Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Association.

"Nom" is a cheerful girl from Foxboro, with the smile that is everlasting in our minds. Knowing her character, we can safely say that she will always be upright, honest and energetic.

ALICE M. WHITMORE, ΦΒΦ

19 Lilley Avenue

Campello, Mass.

"AL." "WHIT"

Spanish Club; Secretary English Club, 1922-1923; French Club; Dramatic Club; Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Association.

"Al" is certainly a "live-wire." Her initiative and perseverance have continually been visible and have been characteristic of all class endeavors. This ability to do things, along with a most pleasing personality made "Al" one of our most prominent classmates.

MARION E. WOODLOCK

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Sophomore History

Dear Sally,—

Just a line to let you know how little old '25's sailing along. As you haven't heard since last winter, I'll have to go way back and tell everything I can think of.

Last spring the only event of great importance that we took part in was the College Birthday, on May 8th. At that time, our president, with those from the other three classes, had a hand in planting the ivy.

After finals, in June (very final for some of us) you can believe that our long summer vacation was most welcome. And what a distinction it was, during the first few days of our return, to look the freshmen over as casually as '24 had done to us, one short year ago. We all thought '26 had some mighty nice girls in its makeup, so, contrary to Sophomore traditions, we treated them gently, considerately, and showed our friendliness in a number of jolly ways, starting off with an Acquaintance Party.

The class officers were elected early in the term, with the results that Gertrude Smith was chosen President, Helen Stanwood, Vice-President, Grace Woolley, Secretary, and Jean Wear, Treasurer. The next big event was our Sophomore Hop, held at the Somerset—a truly brilliant and successful time!

Keep alert for all news concerning us, and it won't be long before you will be reading about the gay Juniors of this same '25.

Lovingly yours,

BETTY.

FRESHMAN CLASS

Freshman Class History

THE fall of nineteen hundred and twenty-two found us returning home from shore and lake, with minds fresh from close contact with nature and a year—the big year which was to mark the beginning of our college career—stretching before us.

Our lives, through which, perhaps, had glimmered a few errant rays, became suffused with color. Maybe the new pathways baffled us, maybe they were not the fascinating byways of our dreams, but the charm of the unknown held us spellbound. From the day of the first assembly, time sped rapidly along. The dreaded initiation passed as a solitary rain-cloud. College friendships, college work, college life filled our days to overflowing.

The Acquaintance Dance, awaited with such intense enthusiasm, came and went; even the bazaar, in which we were allowed to assist, passed into the yesterday; then, the vacation. Home again after three months of school.

Our families noticed a difference in our attitude toward life; we were personally unaware of it—college was doing its inevitable work.

Back we came, facing the storm and stress of mid-years! We were surprised to find our instructors equally interested in us as to whether we procured a shining "A" or an insidious, insignificant little "D."

The "gym" meet was a field of new endeavor. Of the four squads that competed, it was the "orange" who reigned champion among us.

Our first great event of the freshman year—the dance! Never, in our experience, did the "C. S. S." Hall look more gay!

We grow wistful when we face the realization that the year of our childhood ambitions is almost over. Yet, after all, are we not anxious to become dignified "Sophs," and mete out vengeance to the 1923 freshmen?

Junior Class, our history closes with a tribute to you. It is you who have filled our year with joy and understanding. We of '26 owe to you what we have gleaned of the noble ideals and high motives of C. S. S.!

Sigma Society

Sigma Society

Other colleges may have their chapters of Phi Beta Kappa, but C. S. S. has its Sigma Society, an honorary organization formed by Dean Davis during the year 1919-20. The student members are chosen from the Senior Class — the qualifications being a high scholastic standing of a B average with no failures for the four years. Not more than one-fifth the class is eligible.

The emblem of the society is a gold key, one side of which is a representation of an open book with the Greek letter "Sigma" on the left page and quill on the right as a symbol of secretarial work. On the opposite side of the key is engraved the name of the University, the date of granting, and the name of the member.

Each year there is admitted to membership in this society some one person who has shown himself successful in secretarial work. The first year, Mr. George B. Christian, Secretary to President Harding, was chosen. Last year, the society selected Mr. Edward William Bok of Philadelphia.

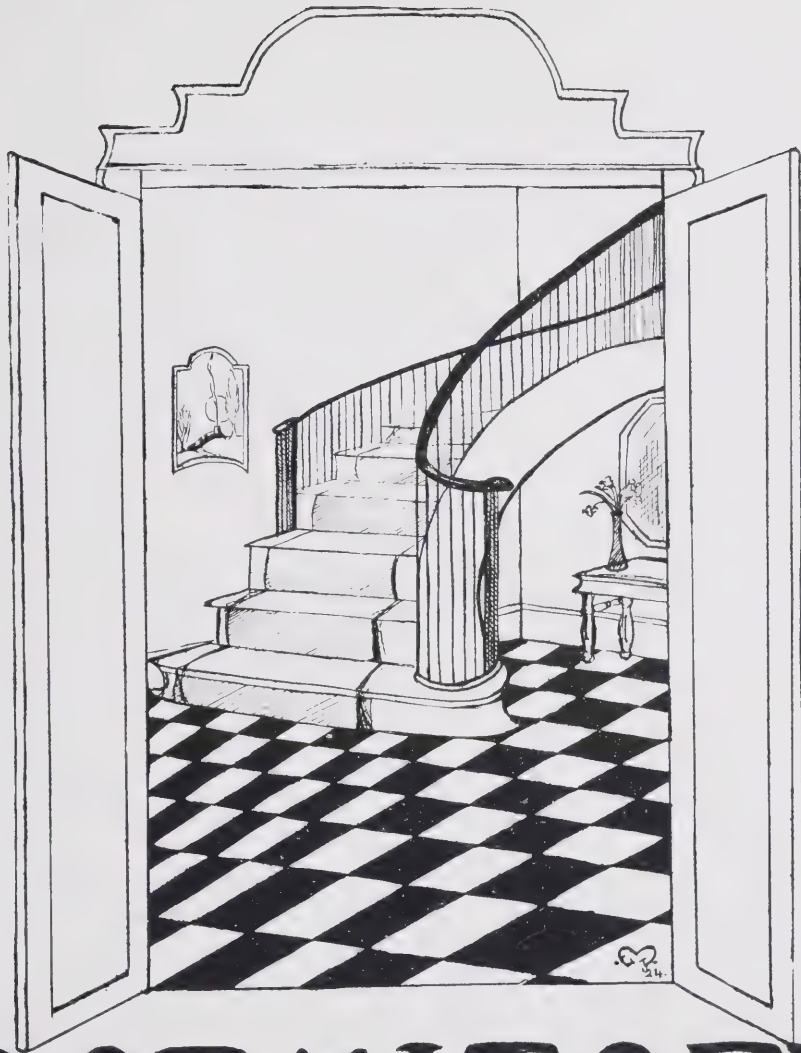

The student members are Lou Estells Brigham, '21, Margaret Elizabeth O'Brien, '21, Dorothy Brigham Corey, '22, and Laura Eugenie LaFond, '22.

The First Party in the C. S. S. Dormitory

Student Government made the rules for the new dormitory and Student Government gave us our first party.

Promptly at nine o'clock on Hallowe'en Eve we closed our books and went over to the Club House, to be greeted there with fathomless darkness, hollow groans and clammy hands. Then after this "spooky" reception, we all sat down and listened to the "sad but true" tale of the girl who died of happiness while at C. S. S. The important parts of her earthly body were then passed around in order to lend veracity to the story. We tossed her eyes about and felt of her brain, we carefully handled her tonsils and teeth, only to learn that her eyes were grapes; her brain, sticky dough; her tonsils, macaroni; and her teeth, unbaked Boston Beans.

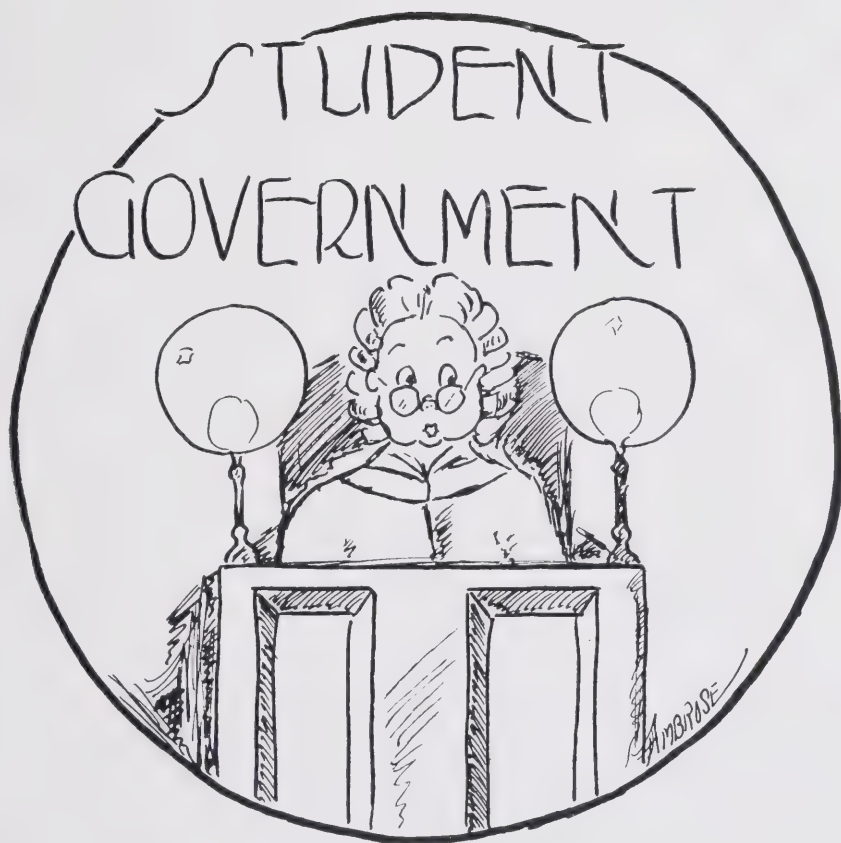

After we had sufficiently recovered our self-control, we were invited to visit the Mellowy Marshs and the Doenuts's hole. When we had exercised all our skill in these places, we were asked to visit the Food Pushers' Alley, and here we all did ourselves justice. What girl wouldn't be happy with sweet cider, apples, doughnuts and cheese, and fifteen pounds of chocolates, provided by Dean Davis to gladden her heart?

After we had eaten as much as we could, we sat around and sang until it was half-past-ten o'clock, when we all went to our respective rooms and hustled about it, too, in order to show our appreciation by having the lights out at eleven o'clock and the house absolutely quiet.

And to whom were we especially indebted for this party? Well, Ruth Stickney had charge of the entertainment, Mildred Macleod planned the refreshments, and Miss Page was general manager of this first and very successful social affair.

Student Government

Student Government has become really known at the College of Secretarial Science this year. Every student has a real respect for the Board which for twenty-five Thursday afternoons held long and important meetings in Room 15.

What has happened at those meetings? Everyone has some individual knowledge of what Student Government has done. Some will remember personal notes of warning; some, the difficulty of learning to put dishes back at the lunch counter. "Proctors' reports" and sorority privileges will remind many people of Student Government's decisions. "Honor spirit" will recall to each one the proud Junior and Senior members of the Board who, by proctoring at mid-years, proved conclusively that the faculty was no longer necessary in examination rooms. All these things have been brought about because each student by her co-operation has shown herself a real factor in the Association.

No matter in what phase of Student Government you have been most interested, you can never forget "Kay," the girl who has so wonderfully advanced the standards of Student Government that she cannot help being an inspiration to the coming presidents.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. holds a most important place in our college. It brings the girls together every Tuesday at noontime for a quiet, thoughtful half hour together. No matter how hard one has been studying or how tired she may be, if she will just drop in with the small group of girls gathered there, she will come away refreshed and ready for business again. The Y. W. adds the religious and inspirational side to the college life.

In June, 1922, thirteen girls representing our college went to the Y. W. C. A. Conference at Camp Maqua, Poland, Maine. This experience brought the girls in touch with associations of other colleges. In the past two years C. S. S. has sent twenty-five girls to Maqua, who have come back the following year with the Maqua spirit, full of enthusiasm and determination to carry on the work for the ensuing year with greater zeal than ever.

Before college opened in the fall, every incoming freshman received a note of welcome from some member of the Y. W. Three weeks after college opened the Y. W. gave a party to greet the girls.

At Christmas time the Y. W. gave a Christmas party to twenty poor children of Boston. The children enjoyed themselves immensely, but I can truthfully say not a bit more than the girls who entertained.

Until January, outside speakers have talked to us on a variety of interesting and uplifting subjects, but at the request of the girls themselves we spent over a month discussing Child Labor Laws, Friendship, Loyalty, etc., with the students themselves as leaders.

Our organization is less than three years old and we want many more to join our happy times at the noon hour Tuesdays. This year we have developed, doubled our membership and attendance. The Y. W. C. A. extends a warm welcome to all.

The Press Club

The Press Club is essentially a business organization and its real interest is in getting the news from C. S. S. and writing it up. Its members were selected by competitive examination so as to determine which ones had "news noses."

The big event of the year was the dance held in the Assembly Hall on January 5. The Club also gave a toboggan party at the Commonwealth Country Club on January 13.

It is the Press Club which is responsible for the publicity which the various clubs and sororities get for their "big events" in the "B. U. News" and the Boston papers.

English Club

The English Club is one of the oldest organizations of the college. It aims to help the girls of the school to develop a wider knowledge and deeper appreciation of their own language. It gives those who are talented an incentive to hard work and accomplishment in a subject which is essential to every student of the school.

In May, 1922, the club collaborated with the Dramatic Club in a very successful production of "The Charm School." This was the second play which had been produced by us, and proved the value of drama as a means of acquiring better knowledge of our language. All those who took part gained much by association with the coach, Miss Mary Winn of the faculty of Emerson College of Oratory.

During the present college year we have attained a membership of about one hundred girls. Our meetings have been devoted in a large part to talks by such good friends and advisors of the club as Professor Corbin, Professor Shiperd, and Mr. Carpenter. They have instructed us in how to read to an audience, how to develop the possibilities of the club, and kindred subjects of vital interest to such an organization.

In February we gave a Valentine Tea to all the Freshmen who were eligible to the club. On this occasion a tentative outline of our coming work was given to our guests, and those who were interested were provided with an opportunity to aid in it by joining. There was an excellent response.

Perhaps our best work this year has been in the way of contests of literary ability. Prizes have been offered both for the best short story submitted and for the best essay on "The Distinctive features of C. S. S."

We are looking forward to better work and greater opportunities in the next year for the furtherance of the literary ideals for which the club was founded.

The Spanish Club of C. S. S. has grown practically one hundred per cent during the past year, and has done things which were never done before in the history of the college. The play, "Los Pantolones," was presented very successfully on April thirteenth, with the following cast: Margaret Walsh, as Dona Paula; Margaret Walsh as Don Juan; Kathryn Huckins as Luisa; and Dorothy Hunt as Dona Carmen. Much of the credit of this production was due to Miss Luce and Professor Oñate.

A girl must have a rank of at least B- to be a member of the Spanish Club. All reports at meetings are read in Spanish; and several speakers, including Professors from C. B. A. and western colleges have contributed to the knowledge of Spanish customs in general. Miss Luce, as ever, has shown a very helpful interest this year, and has done much in the way of lending a real Spanish atmosphere with the programs under her direction.

Another one of the unique undertakings of the Spanish Club was the printing of a Spanish Newspaper, "Adelante" with Vera Ambrose as Editor-in-Chief. Although just one edition appeared this year, it has established itself, and will no doubt continue to be popular among all students interested in Spanish.

We are sure that one of the most reviving influences, if such were needed, in the Spanish Club this year was the entrance of our jovial professor, José Oñate. He has entered in so heartily that he could not help but add life to the Club.

The activities of the year were brought to a close with a party in the C. S. S. Gym on May 16th at which members of all the Spanish Clubs in the vicinity of Boston, were guests. In both work and play, the Spanish Club of C. S. S. has had a remarkably good year; and with such a foundation, future years cannot but be looked forward to as successful.

Dramatics

The work of the Dramatic Club was completed for the year 1921-22 with the staging of "The Charm School," in co-operation with the English Club. Lillian Lehmann took the leading part in this play; others in the cast were: Alice Whitmore, Madelene Galloway, Agnes Hurley, Marie Dooley, Gertrude Marshall, Audrey Ware, Marcia Godfrey, Mildred Macleod, Ruth Stickney and Rose Smith.

A Minstrel Show was presented in the fall. "Stick," "Gody" Miller, "Mil" Macleod and "Dottie" Viets were the ends.

During the winter the club gave a membership party at which the one-act play "Happy Day" was given. "Pat" Gaynor and Margaret Ford were prominent. Madeline Hoisington, Catherine Driscoll, Hope Bennett and Helen Stanwood also had parts.

The Athletic Association presented "The Enchanted Garden." This play was written by Eleanor Hill and played by the members of the Rhythmic and Gym Classes.

The Sophomore Class entertained in the spring with the play "Who Kissed Barbara?" Gertrude Smith, Audrey Ware, Hazel Wiggins, Elizabeth Nichols and Helen Stanwood were in the cast.

The annual Dramatic Club play was presented in the College Auditorium, May 11. This play was "The Mollusc." Again "Lil" Lehmann played the leading role. The cast consisted of Margaret Ford, Margaret Kennedy and Evelyn Stone.

The German Club of C. S. S., which organized November 7, 1922, is the first German Club formed in Boston since the war.

The Club displayed all the vivacity and recklessness of its youth by the degree of energy and vigor with which it prepared and carried through its first entertainment, which consisted in the presentation of "Eigensenn," a three-act German comedy. Then came the German folk dancing and vocal solos, followed by an informal dance.

The German Club owes its success and entire existence to the unfailing co-operation and enthusiasm of Mrs. Tibbets.

The fourth year of the French Club, Le Cercle Français, opened with a large enrollment of new members. At the early meetings of the year the new officers were elected and new laws made. Other meetings were made interesting by having speakers who spoke to the club in French.

As usual, the big event of the year was the annual dance, after which followed other business and social affairs.

1923 marks the third year of the C. S. S. Mandolin Club's existence. It has been steadily growing and broadening since it was founded in 1920 by Louise Newcomb.

This year it has been most fortunate in having Mr. Cñate as its director. Under his capable leadership, it has established a splendid reputation for itself. A director alone cannot do much, but with those under him ready and willing to work, he can accomplish wonders. The Mandolin Club girls are interested in and enthusiastic about their Club, and the result is very promising.

The third annual Concert came on November 24, and was the Club's first public appearance for the season, although it had previously played at an assembly hour. The next appearance was at the Spanish "Ateneo," by invitation of Mr. Cornejo. It next played for the Boston Spanish Club. A Boston church heard its next performance. March 15 found the whole world listening in to it, for the concert was broadcasted from the Shepherd Stores. May 5 it combined with the Orchestra and gave a Spring concert.

ORCHESTRA

Orchestra

Top row: Greene, Lewin, Gaynor, Oñate, Nichols, MacDougall, Hoyt
First row: Robinson, Banning, Wardwell, Lee, Guckin

Of all the musical organizations of the College, the Orchestra has perhaps progressed the most this year. Professor Oñate has been the real source of this remarkable advance. There has hardly been a concert to which the orchestra did not contribute. At the weekly assemblies, it has been most effective, as the Seniors especially realize.

A college Orchestra was a very real need in C. S. S., and now that the need has been so amply filled this year, we are looking forward to even greater things for next year—maybe a combination of musical clubs that will be famous for its high quality, as each of them are now.

Glee Club

The Glee Club of C. S. S. has come into prominence more than ever this year. Besides proving its worth at the regular weekly assemblies, as before, it has also contributed to the Radio Concerts.

Its annual concert was held in the C. S. S. Hall on March 2, and was even better than that of the year before, if such can be imagined. Unusual features of the concert were the singing of foreign lullabies and the "Gavotte" dance in costume. Miss Luce, as Faculty director, assisted very materially in the success of the affair.

We are very sorry indeed to see Gertrude Miller, who has been President, as well as Student leader, of the Glee Club for the past two years, leaving us after the usual manner of Seniors. The results of her untiring efforts to bring the Glee Club up to its present standard will remain, and make for the success of future years.

"Buddy," we salute you. As president of the Athletic Association for the coming year, you have all sorts of possibilities before you. Probably in the very early fall, you will convey a large group of prospective members — mostly shy, young greenlings — to Marblehead, for a picnic such as we had this year. It was quite a sight, wasn't it, to see so large a gathering assembled there on the beach. Even the aristocratic "Hade" Wiggins waddled down to eat her proportionate share of weenies — at least, those that "Dim" and "Gody" didn't consume!

However, the Athletic Association runs more than picnics. There is field hockey, too. We certainly hope that the many sticks that were purchased this year will be put to real practical service during the next. Freshmen, here's your chance. Go to it and win your hockey insignia!

The best of all, though, is basketball. Could anything be more peppy or make for better spirit than the interclass games we have had this year? Even the overworked seniors, between the budgets, have made a fairly good showing. "Al" had a hard time getting them out, but once a team was in the making, there was no stopping them. Even such huskies as the Misses Stanwood, Marshall and Budd had a hectic time keeping the "ancients" down. Those were noble battles, hard fought. Poor old Theresa Curtin hasn't got her wind back yet!

Next year, we are told that the faculty is to have a team. Girls, isn't that enough to invite you to join this splendid organization? Madam treasurer, step forth and collect the membership fees from prospective members. Who could miss seeing Miss Vaughan actually in "the long run" or hearing Miss Page, as referee of the game, shout, "Ignorance of the law excuseth no one; foul for holding, Miss Luce!"

CLIPPINGS

Boston University Student Council was organized in 1921 by President Murlin. It is composed of two members from each department of the University. Meetings are held at C. L. A., in the Trustees' Room, on the first and third Fridays of each month.

The object of such a council is to supervise all-university student activities; to provide an instrument for united action by the student bodies in affairs and enterprises which are of interest to the students of more than one department; to encourage and promote inter-departmental relations and to establish a united University life and spirit.

Each year the Secretary has been a girl from C. S. S., Laura LaFond, Kathryn Stark and Ruth Ridyard.

Some of the things which were censored and approved by the University Student Council are: The Junior Week, the B. U. Show, "My Juliet", Simmons' Costume Ball, an all-university Debating Society, and the B. U. Song Book.

For three years '24 has been proving that it is an exceptional class, far the ordinary! But even before we entered college, in the fall of above 1920, our fame had preceded us, for at least one-third of our members had already been introduced to the public.

In the spring of 1920, The Boston Traveler opened a contest, offering four scholarship prizes at C. S. S. for the best essays on the subject: "Why I Desire a College Education."

Several girls were honored by the publication of their essays, but those receiving the highest honors were: Margaret M. Maguire, four-year scholarship; Violet E. E. Stewart, two-year scholarship; Carolyn W. Pattillo, one-year scholarship, and Clara M. Gauthier, one-year scholarship.

CONVOCATION

The second annual convocation of Boston University was held in the Arena on Friday evening, October 27. The guests of honor were Major-General Clarence R. Edwards and Rear-Admiral Sims. The students marched to the Arena in a body, led by the Reserve Officers' Training Corps. Prior to the arrival of the guests, there was much cheering and singing of Clarissima and Alma Mater and the individual college songs. President Murlin presided and introduced the deans of the various colleges. Admiral Sims gave the principal address of the evening, speaking of the Navy and its needs. During the entire service there was a fine spirit of enthusiasm and loyalty shown which has come to characterize these great meetings of the University body.

On Wednesday afternoon, November 22, Y. W. gave its fall entertainment, consisting of a Fashion Show, a short play, entitled "How He Won Her," and a Pageant of Lights.

Eldith Lewis as an efficient "cop" censored the models in the Style Show. Peg Greer demonstrated the charm of extreme simplicity, giving us the best laugh of the afternoon. Gertrude Marshall was a buxom bride, with flowing veil of crepe (paper) hiding her blush. Alice Whitmore as a "tailor-made man" made all the lovelorn sigh. "Gody" Miller gave us a graphic picture of a C. S. S. freshman in the years to come. Alice Soutter and Caroline Engles were skating girls. "Stick" not only showed her skill at missing the golf ball, but was an authentic model for correct togs, including a "misplaced eyebrow."

Then, in a little drama featuring Ruth Ridyard as a hard-hearted maiden and Dot Peckham as the tireless wooer, we were shown how the Y. W. budget is apportioned.

Last on the program was the pageant of lights. The large Y. W. sign overshadowing the girls dressed in different national costumes, showed how it is a leader in all lands.

The Board of Editors of the 1924 Sivad wishes to express its appreciation of the aid and service given it by the faculty and undergraduates. Sivad thanks especially:

The Bazaar

November 17, 1922, was "Sivad" Bazaar Day.

The affair was held under the direction of the Junior Year-Book Committee, with the able guidance of Miss Freeman of our faculty.

The interest of every girl at C. S. S. was enlisted, and the number of articles contributed displayed the loyal spirit of the College. The hall represented a gala spectacle, with its gaily decorated tables. Perhaps the prettiest table was the candy table. Then there were tables of fancy work, aprons, handkerchiefs, dolls, grab bags, and a fragrant flower table, as well as an inviting food table. Beside all these things, there were fortune tellers and punch vendors. In the evening, the tables were removed and dancing began.

The final event was the crowning of the C. S. S. Princess. All the students had been breathlessly awaiting the final counting of the Princess votes, and greeted the winning contestant,—Miss Katherine Stark of Brighton, and President of Student Government,—with loud and prolonged applause.

Prizes had been offered for the best posters submitted for the Bazaar. Violet Stewart, a junior, and Margaret Ford, a freshman, were the winners; while Grace Woolley received the prize for the best poster contributed by outside talent.

The Bazaar was a success in every way, financially as well as socially, from the time the project was launched until the "last sweet strains of music had died away." The money realized went towards the support of the Year-Book for 1923.

Washington Trip

To present the Key of the Sigma Society of the College of Secretarial Science to Mr. Christian, Secretary to the President of the United States, was indeed a great honor; but to be in attendance at the presentation was even a greater one. The honor and the opportunity were, no doubt, keenly appreciated by the members of the party who went on the trip to Washington, and their appreciation was indeed evident in the excitement which existed on that eventful Saturday morning, April 15, 1922.

What an enthusiastic party, including Dean and Mrs. Davis and "Mother" Damon, left South Station at 6 p.m., Thursday, April 13, for Fall River, taking the boat from there to New York. We arrived in New York about seven o'clock Friday morning, and had time for a short walk to the shopping district on Fifth Avenue, before leaving for Washington at 10.10 a.m.

Although we were in Washington less than a week, we had the opportunity of visiting the Congressional Library, National Museum, Capitol and Pan-American Building. We also enjoyed trips to Mt. Vernon, Fort Meyers, The Lee Mansion at Arlington, The National Cemetery, Zoölogical Gardens and the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

But we were not there merely on a sight-seeing tour. We had embarked on an eventful pilgrimage; we were there to present the first Honorary Key of the Sigma Society to Mr. Christian, and as we stood in the Cabinet Room of the White House, the room where the destinies of our country are determined, it seemed to us that the College of Secretarial Science could not have given her first honorary Key to a more worthy man than to the Secretary of the President of the United States, who, in every degree, possessed the high merits requisite for the Sigma Society!

JUNIOR-WEEK PROBLEM

$$\begin{array}{ll} X = \text{Show} & y^2 = X \\ Y = \text{Tea Dance} & X^{\frac{1}{2}} = Y \\ Z = \text{Prom} & X^2 = Z \end{array}$$

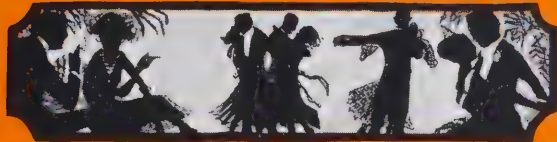

Rated on scale of 10 — Tom = 8
 Joe = 2
 Bob = 9 at Prom; 0 at Show
 Hal = 7

JUNIOR WEEK

Junior Prom Committee

Back Row: Miss Hughes, Miss Arratto, Miss Armstrong, Hess, Miss Vaughan, Limric, Miss Kirby Front Row: Taylor, Miss Carleton, Ahern, Miss Hemeon, Sharp

Junior Week—the week of weeks! Prom night—the night of nights! That's what every Junior exists for—the only thing that keeps her going through the long weary year.

The first thing on the program was the Panadelphic Dance at the Brunswick—success one!! Then came the show on Wednesday night, "My Juliet," at the Boston Opera House. C. S. S. is mighty proud of the showing the girls made this year. And the after-theatre dance helped to make this event success number two!

C. S. S. then decided to take an active hand in the festivities and gave a tea dance at the Hotel Westminster on April 19. It was unanimously voted a good time, and so we came home happy from success number three!

And Prom night! At the Somerset—Bert Lowe's orchestra—attractive favors—everyone dressed up in beautiful clothes—who could help having "a marvelous time?" And we danced until three and weren't a bit tired. In fact, a good many of us topped the week off with fraternity dances on Saturday night.

Anyway, for the second All-University Prom, everything meant SUCCESS in capital letters.

St. Peter Sees the Class of 1924

2000 A.D.! St. Peter looked up at the new calendar above his desk in surprise, and shaking his hoary head, exclaimed, "My time has come at last. Judgment Day is come, after all these weary centuries of waiting."

THAT DAY there was no light. Cyclones swept away all that men had built, and rain and hail washed clean the sites where the signs of civilization and culture had been. Early the Summons thundered forth from Heaven for all humankind to gather outside the Celestial Gates. Only once would the Gates be opened to admit the waiting throng. Within a brief space of time, millions of poor, miserable human beings, with bowed heads and trembling limbs had assembled and were admitted into the Great Chamber, guarded by St. Peter alone, there to await their Call.

At last the gates were closed. Suddenly, there was a shrill cry:

"O, St. Peter, please open the gates and let me in. I am only a minute late!"

"Your name?" sternly demanded St. Peter.

"It is Theresa Arratto. It was going to be changed, but I was late for the wedding. Oh, please let me in!"

Throughout that Chamber echoed the name of Theresa Arratto, and one hundred and ten gray-haired women pushed their way through the multitude to St. Peter and pleaded with him to permit their remaining classmate to enter. Moved to compassion by their pleas, he opened the Gates and let the stray wanderer in.

There were tears of joy at this ultimate reunion and fond embraces, and all the multitude rejoiced with the little group.

"Theresa," they cried, "of 1924. Where have you been all these years, and what made you so late TODAY?"

"I was a social satellite in Paris until THIS happened, and had hundreds of admirers at my feet, ready to obey my most whimsical command. I was just planning a ball in honor of the second Lady Vascelles ('Peg' Kirby, you know—the dancer) when the Summons came, and I simply had to finish making out the invitation list. Why, here is 'Peg' herself, and 'Lil' Lehmann, who used to be editor of our 'Sivad.' Honestly, 'Lil,' your hands are still stained with ink!"

"That," Lillian answered with a smile, "was caused by all the excitement. I was working on my greatest novel when I was commanded to come here and in my haste tipped over an enormous inkwell.

"I'll tell you what. Since we are all here, let each girl give an account of herself since graduation in 1924."

All agreed to this suggestion, and the stories were begun.

Glancing at St. Peter, I saw him seated at his desk, pen in hand, ready to write. Moved by great curiosity, I looked over his shoulder and watched him write the following:

"Florrie Alderson met with success as an aviatrix and explorer.

"Vera Ambrose earned world fame for the articles entitled 'Why Women Should Smoke.' These were all written in Spanish and illustrated by the author.

"Charlotte Armstrong profited by her experience in collecting money for Prom tickets way back in '23, and became a collector for an Agency with a commission of two cents on the dollar.

"Grace Barrett became the stern head of a Psycopathic Hospital, which was directed by a Board of Eminent Psychologists.

"Anna Barry clerked for little "Sammy," but said there never had been a proposal.

"Elsie Bartsch was a Spanish Correspondent for a New York export house.

"Pearl Bornstein moved to China in order to procure her brand of Chop Suey. Besides, no one was in a hurry there and it was a rule to be late.

"Louise Bellows, the Class President, revised the teaching of Spanish verbs. The verbs were not taught after Miss Bellows became Director of Education.

"Sadie Bixby hiked around the world, and everywhere that Sadie went, her Drama Book was sure to go.

"Louise Budd sold tickets at the Majestic Theatre.

"Mona Burke did go to Mars, but came back within three days, fully decided that this world was best.

"Dorothy Campbell, in cap and gown, played innocent girl graduate parts during the football season at the Bowl, Yale.

"Beatrice Carro and Lillian Scheffreen were fired to ambition by their course in Literature. Under the names of 'Beaumont and Fletcher,' they published 'Weissnichtwo.' Lillian as Beaumont supplied the plot, while Beatrice added the touches of art.

"Elizabeth Charleton became a dare-devil movie actress, and risked her life many times—jumping from moving trains, falling from cliffs and 'vamping' old men.

"Alice Clark invented an electric typewriter, and reaped enormous profits from her patent, which she devoted almost entirely to the establishment of a home for old-fashioned stenographers who had 'worked themselves to their finger bones' to attain SPEED.

"Marion Condon was kept busy during her lifetime, collecting alimony from three sources and allotting it to her extravagant tastes.

"Margaret Conkling was the manager of an exclusive skating rink in the Back Bay, where every B. U. man was welcome.

"Helen Connolly operated the latest bookkeeping machine, a device which did away with all accountants.

"Mary Cox forgot her 'wild and woolly' dreams as a stunt performer in a floating circus.

"Phyllis Culbert managed a railroad system known as the 'Slow But Sure Way.'

"Helen Davidson preached communism via air waves, and was sentenced to study the Law.

"Dorothy Davis was made President of Hamilton College.

"Eva Davis evolved a stretching system for little people and published it in pamphlet form. The idea came to her from constant looking-up to her six-foot-four husband.

"Lorette Cloutier, who had been raised on yeast, became a leading mannequin.

"Adelaide Dodge taught 'What Not To Sing' at Wellesley College, the position being a direct hand-down from THE Professor.

"Florence Donovan captained the 'Women's Basketball Squadron' in the War of 1999.

"Marie Dooley was an authority on obsolete French.

"Gladys Fish demonstrated dancing without movement of limbs.

"Cora Falconer played her part as head waitress at Schrafft's.

"Ray Franzblau was a soap-box orator at $5.00 per hour in the interests of the promotion of world peace.

"Hazel Faulkner was a nurse in the Turkish Army, and not a single patient in her ward ever had the least desire to get well.

"Eileen Green conducted a pawnshop in Manila, P. I.

"Elizabeth Heath measured degrees of heat and cold in a physics laboratory.

"Patricia Horan appeared as the bareback rider at Keith's circuit for twenty years.

"Helen Howland compiled a dictionary.

"Kathryn Huckins, well-experienced in the acting of Spanish plays at C. S. S., turned her attention to the coaching of Spanish plays.

"Virginia Hughes became President of the Anglo-Japanese Alliance.

"Agnes Hurley obtained a position at the Boston Public Library under her 'Bill.'

"Marion Holtzgreen collected pictures for many years; first for her scrap-book of famous men, and later for the Rogues' Gallery at the Charlestown State Prison.

"Leah Immerman had been a lawyer and the first woman who did not have to pass the bar, under the ruling that prohibition was for men only.

"Elsie Jackson joined an acrobatic troupe.

"Marie Jones improved the Einstein theory, and was the first woman to apply the principle of Relativity to deep thought.

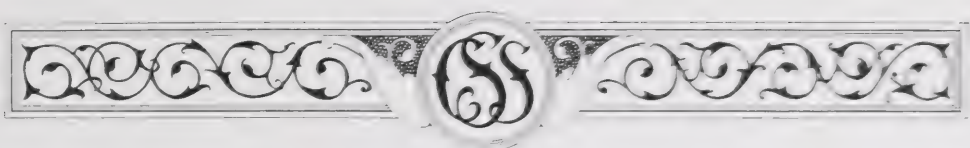

"Pauline Jenness, whose dormitory room was so aptly decorated with the sign 'No Trespassing, Keep off the Grass,' designed the latest craze—grass-cloth material for dresses.

"Mary Johnson—called 'Our Mayr' by the class, was the wealthiest woman in the land. To all the world she was known as the 'Angel of the Poor.'

"Ada Kilkenny ran a dancing school for fat people.

"Alice Kingston became the speediest reporter in the Supreme Court of the United States.

Marion Levin owned, managed and edited a newspaper of her own.

"Grace Lynch was postmistress at Holy Cross College. Her efficiency can hardly be questioned, for in some mysterious way, she effected the savings of hundreds of dollars in postage stamps.

"Helen McCarthy was known as 'Mother' McCarthy while in charge of the C. S. S. Dormitories, where no men dared enter on the pain of their lives.

"Lillian Maher won the title of champion typist of the United States.

"Emily Mansfield and her 'Bill' kept a delightful hot dog parlor at Yellowstone Park.

"Anne Marshall, once the most ambitious girl at C. S. S., was president of the 'Society for the Enjoyment of Work' at Rochester, New York.

"'Bob' Marshall occupied the important post of boxing instructor at the Posse Gym School for Boys.

"Margaret Marshall rose to fame as the most extensive buyer at the Emporium in San Francisco.

"Hazel Mathews was a companion to the author of the best celler of a century, called 'Where to Get a Drink in the United States.'

"Ruth Middleton, the vamp of 1924, wrote the Society Column of the Boston Advertiser for many years, and was known as the 'horder of mails,' because of the numberless letters of criticism which she received.

"Mary McGrail edited the financial page of the Chicago Tribune with the help of her old Finance notes.

"Margaret Mackay was doing research work in Abyssinia, for the 'Society for the Revival of Jazz.'

"Hester MacKenzie managed a Marriage Bureau and taught girls how to make love.

"Mildred Mackintire was a botanist in the Sahara Desert.

"Lillian MacMullen managed a large business so successfully that the President of the concern had to marry her in order to insure his job against his woman competitor. But then Lillian became the real boss, anyway.

"Margaret Maguire, the little girl who used to be so quiet and reserved at College, changed sadly, and became one of the leading exponents on 'Women's Rights in the Regions of the Amazon,' touring South America in an attempt to enlist the sympathies of MERE men for the cause.

"Marion McCarthy, as a judge, was the avowed enemy of all airplane and submarine speeders, most of whom were students.

"Winifred McDonough conducted a correspondence course on 'How to get a B. S. S. Degree.'

"Alice McGillicuddy was a taxicab driver in New York City, and even the motorcycle cops could not beat her for speed when she got started.

"Prudence Mathews had 'much' of everything — 'much' fun, 'much' money, and 'much' children. All her girls went to C. S. S. and her boys to C. B. A.

"Eileen Monahan, because of her ability to do things in a hurry, was appointed Emergency Operator of the Wireless Telephone.

"Pauline Moody had been a Principal at the Waterbury, Vermont, High School, where she established a Student Government System modelled after the old one at C. S. S.

"Mary Mortimer was a radio song bird.

"Louise Moulton did take Professor Wilson's advice and accepted a position as a teacher. She taught tricks to dogs.

"Helen Mulcahy was publicly acknowledged as the leading dress designer for men.

"Helen Mulvey prepared a celebrated brand of cosmetics (her own) for marketing in foreign lands.

"Mary Murray succeeded as an essayist, and was a regular contributor to the Atlantic Monthly.

"Mary Murphy had no occupation. She was supported by her 'Relatives-in-law.'

"Evelyn Nadell ran a woman's specialty shop to support her family while her husband developed his housekeeping abilities.

"Madeline Nason, the brightest in the class, starred in the All-American Chorus.

"Mildred Nussbaum acquired a reputation as a connoisseur of rare and fine jewelry. Her collection contained everything from glass diamonds to imitation pearls.

"Esther Nuzum was counsellor at a camp in the Alps for Americans with shattered nerves.

"Beryl Parker became a musical critic on the 'Japanese Sun.'

"Carolyn Pattillo sponsored a book on 'Teaching English to Insects.'

"Marie Perry was a Gondolier Lady in Venice.

"Beryl Quinn had been a missionary in the North Pole.

"Dorothy Ralph played 'extras' in the Movie Colonies of Los Angeles.

"Ruth Rhodes occupied the position of Field Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Constantinople.

"Ruth Ridyard wrote the songs and operas that made Mary Mortimer famous as a singer.

"Irene Roche was a jockey at the Paris race tracks.

"Virginia Rosenberg made hats for a livelihood.

"Anna Rosengren won her degree and gave the rest of her life to contemplating upon the wonder of it.

"Annie Rossi bound rare and antiquated volumes for the Museum of Fine Arts, among which could be found Pleign's 'Finance' and Taussig's 'Economics.'

"Beatrice Roy edited the 'Dictionary of Facts,' without help from reference books.

"Sarah Schwalb policed the Charles in a canoe.

"Hermine Seuss had the State House Dome painted white because it detracted from the glory of her red-headed husband, who had become the Governor of Massachusetts.

"Julia Swift remained an exponent of Expository Writing to the end.

"Alice Shepherd did find a man and despite all she said she would like to do, made an excellent wife.

"Elizabeth Smith whistled her way to success as a bird fancier.

"Vivian Smith became a Salvation Army lassie and consequently a famous doughnut maker.

"Lillian Staffhorst pitched for the Braves.

"Violet Stewart illustrated the comics for the Boston American.

"Velma Sweet—sweet Velma engineered and directed the building of a portion of the tubes from our Atlantic Coast to France.

"Irma Tatton planned to be a teacher, but became an interior decorator instead.

"Mildred Tewksbury was employed as the hair-dressing expert at the Court of the new English President.

"Alice Thompson was sent to the Legislature and did her best to pass new laws against dancing, hugging and kissing, but it did no good—these evils could not be abolished.

"Eleanor Vatter discovered a country where even the old-fashioned telephone had not been heard of.

"Cora Vose did a flourishing business, renting men out to girl students in Boston for such affairs as proms, hikes, etc. She did know some nice ones.

"Alice Whitmore sailed all the seven seas as 'Commodoress' of the latest undersea vessel.

"Naomi White became a manufacturer of pencil sharpeners.

"Marion Woodlock, famed economist, launched the 'no-Tax' plan, which solved all financial difficulties of the age.

"Marion Webb was an Egyptian archæologist. She was probably attracted to Egypt by its beautiful moonlights."

At this moment, St. Peter turned suddenly about, looked at me directly, and announced in a thunderous voice: "Class of 1924, enter Ye for Judgment!"

A hush fell on the gray-headed women, and their merriment ceased. Fearful, yet happy at their ultimate reunion, the Gates of Heaven opened to admit them forever. And that was the last St. Peter ever saw of them.

Class Will

We, the Class of 1924 of the College of Secretarial Science, being as ever in full possession of our senses, being of disposing mind and memory, do hereby make this our last will and testament as follows:

We give and bequeath to the Sophomore Class the duty and privilege of editing the "Sivad."

We also bequeath to the Sophomore Class the care of the coming freshmen.

To our sister freshmen we give the right to stop "wearing the green" and don the spirit of the cruel sophomore.

To all classes forevermore we bequeath our spirit of love and loyalty to C. S. S.

Florrie Alderson bequeaths her sweet and quiet manner.

Vera Ambrose leaves her knowledge of Spanish.

Charlotte Armstrong leaves her chairmanship of the Junior Week Committee.

Theresa Arratto bequeaths her vivacious manner and hilarity.

Grace Barret leaves her attempts in Creative Writing.

Anna Barry gives and bequeaths her mandolin and musical ability.

Elsie Bartsch leaves a bouquet of "Pola Negri roses" to next year's flower table at the Annual Bazaar.

Louise Bellows bequeaths all the honor—and duties—attached to the presidential chair.

Sadye Bixby leaves her good-looking bob.

Statistics

MOST POPULAR GIRL

This honor was voted to Mary Johnson—with a number of votes to spare. Louise Bellows and Mary McGrail came in for a goodly share, and Anne Marshall and Lillian Lehmann did not go unmentioned.

GIRL WHO HAS DONE THE MOST FOR C. S. S.

It was generally conceded that Anne Marshall deserves this title, with her many accomplishments.

PRETTIEST GIRL

Not being diplomats, we tell the truth. Ruth Ridyard won the distinction with a grand slam. The few remaining votes were almost evenly divided between Evelyn Nadell, Hazel Faulkner and Louise Budd.

MOST VERSATILE GIRL

Creative writing, dramatics and Sivad are undeniable proofs of the versatility of Lillian Lehmann. Nearly as much could be said in the line of scholarship and so forth for Vera Ambrose; also for Mary McGrail, with the News and Sivad and orchestra, et cetera, ad infinitum.

CLASS FLIRT

There is little doubt in the mind of the Junior Class as to whom this accomplishment belongs, which, by the way, is proof of the high state of perfection to which she (Ruth Middleton, of course) has developed the art.

BEST ATHLETE

The pie is awarded to Cora Falconer, the custard to Louise Budd.

CLASS HUMORIST

It is altogether fitting and proper that our class should have elected Mary McGrail as the Humorist as she is Editor of the Grinds. Mary Murphy, Lillian Lehmann and Theresa Arratto carried off the lesser honors.

BEST DANCER

Landslide for Margaret Kirby in this vote! There was no need for any other names to appear.

CLASS BLUFFER

Score one more for Lillian Lehmann. Ask the class, they know.

LONGEST EARRINGS

Very little competition shown to Helen Mulvey, unless we except her old pal, Helen Mulcahy. Virginia Hughes was also accused of being guilty in this respect.

CLASS FLAPPER

Although Flappers have gone out of date, we boast the only remaining survivor in Helen Mulcahy. And again her shadow, Helen Mulvey, edges into second place.

BEST LINE

Lillian Lehmann walked off with the cake in this contest by beating Helen McCarthy by eight votes. Tie on the tail end between Mary McGrail and Ruth Middleton.

BEST NATURED

This vote revealed almost every member of the Junior Class as an aspiring candidate, but Louise Budd won out, with Florence Donovan a close second. Gertrude Marshall, Pauline Jenness and Mary McGrail tied for third place.

LAZIEST

This vote almost turned out to be an avalanche for Mary Murphy, but Carolyn Pattillo demanded recognition in the art of being lazy and got it. Lillian Scheffreen was also in this catalogue.

NOISIEST

For once in its history, the class was of one mind on the subject of its noisiest member. Theresa Arratto got the cut glass tooth brush!

KNOWS IT ALL

Alice Whitmore knows everything from the European situation to the latest styles in Greenland. As for Helen McCarthy, she at least thinks she does.

ANGEL

There is no doubt but her quiet winsome ways won Agnes Hurley this title. Violet Stewart and Elsie Jackson helped to keep up our reputation as a quiet class.

FRILLIEST GARTERS

"How can you tell?" and "Try to find out," featured strongly in the answers to this question, but Pauline Jenness is either very expert with the needle or is possessed of a lot of lucre, for she won out.

WHO EXPECTS TO BECOME A SECRETARY?

Margaret Marshall and Madeline Nason have hopes in this direction. We never would have suspected it of Mary McGrail, however.

WHO KNOWS EVERYBODY?

And here Anne Marshall proved it by being able to get so many subscriptions to the Sivad. Mary McGrail has a good following, and the girls in the book store came in for some glory.

WHO WILL MAKE THE BEST TEACHER?

Honestly, it was a sin to ask this question—Vera Ambrose simply gathered in all honors.

MOST EFFICIENT SECRETARY

Now Madeline Nason, this is what you get for being so brilliant in Shorthand and Typ! And the fact that Vera Ambrose came in second, shows that there will be a good many positions open to her.

WHO GIGGLES THE MOST?

We didn't know that there were so many gigglers in this class. Tied for first place were Mildred Tewksbury, Mary Mortimer, Lillian Scheffreen, Evelyn Nadell and Louise Budd!

ALWAYS SMILING

Again the whole class features itself! But Emily Mansfield, Marion Condon, Winifred McDonough and Gertrude Marshall came out ahead.

MOST MUSICAL

We needed an adding machine to count up the votes for Mary Mortimer in this case. Very, very far in the rear we found Evelyn Nadell, Mary McGrail and Julia Swift.

MAN HATER

And here is where the class got silly! It actually voted the Class Flirt the Class Man Hater. We're sorry, Ruth, we know you prefer the former title. However, Helen McCarthy came in such a close second that we award her the title.

MOST POPULAR WITH THE MEN

If you please, Mary McGrail led this vote with Ruth Middleton, Lillian Lehmann and Virginia Hughes trailing in the rear.

BEST DRESSED GIRL

We suspect that Lillian Lehmann sits up at night, thinking out clothes, because she got the laurel crown here. Alice McGillicuddy came in a close second, with Ruth Ridyard and Peg Mackay tying for third place. There were so many others that we begin to think we are a pretty smart looking class!

MOST POPULAR MAN TEACHER

Mr. Corbin, there is no doubt but you are the most popular with the juniors. The vote was a landslide for you.

MOST POPULAR WOMAN TEACHER

We think it rather a great tribute to Miss Vaughan that although she teaches the least popular subjects, she was overwhelmingly voted the most popular woman teacher with the Junior Class. And Miss Page came in for second place, with a good many votes to her credit.

AN IDEAL ROOMMATE

Some folks are endlessly fussing
'Bout the things their roommates do;
From daylight till dark, they're cussing
Over things they don't do, too.

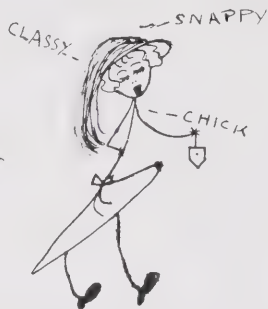

Now, I am never troubled that way,
My roommate and I just agree;
We're always together the livelong day—
We're quite fond of each other, you see.

I don't have to worry 'bout borrowing,
As for lending—it's nothing to me.
My roommate and I wear the same clothes;
What we have, we share generously.

I know I'm the luckiest mortal—
That's why this exuberant tone,
I'm blessed with the best of all roommates,
For the fact is,—I room alone!

MARGARET CONKLING and PRUDENCE MATHEWS have Jonathan and David backed off the boards?

THINGS THAT NEVER HAPPEN

Chairs in the lunch room.
Classes for men at C. S. S.
Marion Condon with a grouch.
Mary Cox flunking a recitation.
Anne Marshall with nothing to do.

Extracts From a Junior's Note Book

(Course in Shakespeare)

I haven't any change!

60% OF PLAY PRODUCED DURING

Dr. X has another scarf—whom do you suppose he swapped with? Not so bad, though.

HISTORICAL DRAMA—Peele.

I'm leaving at ten or fifteen minutes of twelve. I'll meet you at 12:15, down by my locker to give you the change. What kind of sandwich do you want? Peanut butter—jelly—salad? No?

MARLOWE—one of the "University Wits."

Yes, either in dressing room at the right or left of stage—style show is scheduled for twelve-thirty.

GOOD ROLICKING COMEDY—beginning of Elizabethan Drama.

Good-looking ring the Prof. has? On left hand.

PROF. KITTREDGE'S LECTURES—on five tragedies of Shakespeare.

Pearl knocked off our register last night—the one in the closet, and we found a long-lost bedroom slipper and a silk scarf.

LECTURES ON TUES. AND FRI.—ADMISSION BY TICKET. IN SAUNDERS THEATRE, HARVARD.

What did Bill suggest doing—anything? as usual! Who else will be on the party with us? I'm not so keen on the Westminster, are you? Oh!!! the Prof's wedding ring is on his little finger! Terrible job of doing up his sore finger,—wonder if it was a corkscrew?

SHAKESPEARE COBBLED PLAYS IN LONDON.

Yes—that's all right—wish there were some place new. Gosh, haven't been there for years! Yes, I'd take a chance on it any day. How about the Lorraine? No guarantee! But don't you love to know what every place is like? I do! Oh, any decent place, of course. Fine! I'm on—but I think that the party will have to be week after next—as far as I'm concerned. Of course, Marge might fill in—that's no joke—even if she is!!

HISTORICAL DRAMA AND COMEDY—SHAKESPEARE BEGAN EARLY WORK WITH "COMEDY OF ERRORS" AND "LOVE'S LABOUR LOST."

Why aren't you going to the dance Friday? Oh, I say—take someone else—what if everyone took only the man they especially wanted, to everything? Either she wouldn't go much, or some man would be getting an overdose. I wish you would, 'cause I'd like to see what sort of a "line" a real lawyer has! Oh—I know—but you probably just don't recognize a line when you see one! I'll bet he has. Fine!! Anything to have you come—I'll report on the "proof" as soon as I have one dance with him.

UNITY OF TIME AND OF PLACE—whole of action takes place within short time. Where did you swipe the paper? Lucky you did, or I'd not have any notes, and it's getting near exams! Haven't taken such full notes for ages—three sheets already.

ORGANIC DIVISION OF DRAMA.

Ye, gods! It's nearly 12—I must leave to get dressed for the Style Show. See you at 12:15—oh, yes, fix it up for a week from Saturday—absolutely anything but canoeing!! S'long.

She:—"Have you ever been pinched for speeding?"

He:—"No, but I've been slapped."

He, at supper with her family:—"I got my Bachelor's degree in 1918."

Little Sister:—"Well, if you got a Bachelor's degree, will M. get an old maid's degree when she gets through C. S. S.?"

Of course the modern girl knows what to do with the needle — it should be changed after each record!

Miss Vaughan would like to know if anybody has dreamed about her prince charming.

I often find things comical
In problems economical,
I love to fool with international trade.
Diminishing returns to me
Are but a source of jollity;
With bimetallic coinage I have played.
With urban and suburban rent
How many happy days I've spent;
I've figured out what interest is due
On father's mortgage on the light,
And I am able to recite
My Taussig "Economics," Volume II.

FACTS ABOUT OUR FAMOUS FACULTY

If Mr. Corbin hadn't chosen to be a Professor of English, we think that he would have made an equally excellent farmer.

Miss Page has two ideals toward which she struggles—getting perfect attendance in class and keeping the girls out of the clutches of loan-sharks.

It is noteworthy that in the Statistics, there were three contestants for first place in "Who knows everybody in C. S. S.?" Mr. Colby, Dean Davis and the College Cat!

We wonder if Miss Purmort ever has a nightmare to the effect that some day the bell is going to ring before she gets to the transcript?

We think that one reason why we all "grin and bear" Money and Banking and Public Finance, is because we know how Miss Vaughan feels about these subjects and you know "Misery loves company."

It is a toss-up as to whether Miss Luce or Mr. Oñate has done the most for C. S. S. musical clubs. We have decided that they divide the honors and offer our eternal gratitude.

We offer Miss Corey as an example of the fact that some of us do absorb Shorthand and Typewriting while here at school.

We heard that Miss Smith and Miss Vaughan are going to put through a law forbidding any more jokes on their pet expressions of "Time!" and "In the long run." We promise you both that this is the last time they will be mentioned in the Sivad!

Miss Freeman stands for Organization and Efficiency in capital letters. That's why she is so much in demand when anyone thinks of a Bazaar or a Circus. Her unfailing good humor is another thing that attracts us.

Mr. Mechler is the man who puts "wim, wigor and witality" into the Shorthand course. We hope he stays with us at least until Lotta Grow arrives.

Mrs. Tibbetts in Spanish I:—"Give me a contrary-to-fact sentence.
Soph. (thinking aloud):—"If I had money—"
Mrs. Tibbetts:—"That's right! Very good example of contrary-to-fact."

THINGS WE WOULD LIKE TO KNOW

WHY Mary Murphy talks so low in class and so loud elsewhere?
WHY Mr. Wilson picked Theresa Arratto and Mildred Tewksbury for the intelligence tests? Were they dumb or absent?
WHETHER Mr. Corbin thinks we believe he really locks his door?
WHY Alice McCarthy blushes so in Educational Psych?
WHY Vivian Smith and Phyllis Culbert lose their power of speech when Mr. Oñate calls on them?
WHAT would happen to Lill Lehmann if she couldn't talk?
WHAT would happen if Louise Bellows lost her temper in class meeting?
DID Betty Heath take her course in cooking during the summer?
WHETHER the window has any attractions for Marion Condon in Spanish?
WHY Mary Mortimer isn't training for the Opera?
WILL Marian Woodlock have to do any cooking later on?

Mr. Oñate, at Christmas time:—"I hope you all have a pleasant vacation and that you'll come back and do better work than you are doing."
Class:—"The same to you."

Professor Corbin:—"It is but a step from the sublime to the ridiculous."
Student:—"Watch your step."

Seen at the dorms every Sunday morning—hats! I wonder why?

Student:—"I got South America on the radio last night."

Prof.:—"Uh-huh, did you?"

Student:—"Yes, and then I put my head out of the window and got Chile." (chilly).

Shakesperian Stage:

Swells used to stand by the stage; now they stand by the stage door.

HEARD AROUND C. S. S.

"—wonderful time. Oh, my dear, he is a heavenly dancer and has the cutest line. I'll bring him to the next dance at school. And he seems to like me—"

"—the worst transcript I ever had, and she went so fast. I didn't get a thing. And then, she gave us another one of those bills—"

"—absolutely broke, what with paying Mr. Colby forty cents this week for opening my locker and all that typewriting paper and the new book for English Lit.—"

"—forgot to sign up for a Prom ticket because I thought he was going to come across, but not a sign so far, so I'm going to try to get one. I'll go to the Show, anyway—"

"—latest scandal about her engagement. The ring is a beauty and she had a shower and all of a sudden she just decided that she didn't—"

"—have about 40 per cent off so far. Was late I don't know how many times and cut a couple of classes to go to see Gloria Swanson and Rodolph Valentino. Pretty soon there won't be any more mark—"

Things you should keep:—Tempers, sunny dispositions, secrets, and hair.

Things you shouldn't keep:—Grudges, ugly dogs, late hours, and borrowed books.

Professor Corbin:—"Before I was married, I used to go down to East Orange, N. J., to see a certain young lady, so I know something about Jersey mosquitoes."

When will the "Sivad" be out?

An anachronism is when you put things before their time—like any of us going to a nine-o'clock class.

"What do you expect to graduate in?"
"Oh, in the course of time."

"Why did you tip your hat to that girl and you don't know her?"
"Well, Dick does, and it's his hat."

Do You Keep Well Informed?

No? Then let us help you. Form the habit of reading the Boston News Bureau. You will find the necessary news of the world presented in a concise and clear manner; you will find the news of business and finance presented not as a technical maze, but so that at first glance the meat of the matter will be obvious to you. In fact, whether your career is to be in business or in a profession, you will find its articles dealing with matters about which you are most vitally concerned.

PERRY & ELLIOTT COMPANY enjoyed printing the "Sivad" this year

And because we really do get a lot of fun working with the students, the list of school and college annuals that they bring to us for printing grows longer each year.

For instance:

"Sivad," Boston University College of Secretarial Science.

"Crucible," Massachusetts College of Pharmacy.

"Technique," Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

"The Syllabus," Boston University College of Business Administration.

Dorchester High School.

"Cauldron," Northeastern University.

"Nike," Wheaton College.

Our experience with this class of publication enables us to be of unusual service to those contemplating a year book for the first time. Bring your problem in to us.
